BILL WOULD LET ST. LOUIS
IN RAPID TRANSIT SYSTEM
Measure Introduced in Senate
vides for Payment of $100 by 50-Year Bonds.
Special to the Post-Dispatch
JEFFERSON CITY, March 2.— Senator Caulfield of St. Louis to-introduced a bill which would able the cities of St. Louis and Kansas City to establish rapid trans-systems, either by construction of elevated, surface or subway lines,
and pay for the system by issuing 50-year bonds.

Caulfield introduced the bill
the request of O. J. McCawley, St. Louis, president of the Council on Rapid Transit, an organization representing 28 bodies interested in solution of the transit problem of St. Louis.
Under this measure the cities
would be enabled, through out-ranchise, to condemn or acquire property for a rapid transit line, to construct the system and to operate lease it. The question of leasing bonds to pay for the construction of the system would be submitted to voters of the city in an election.
McCawley, in a letter to Caulfield, stated the bill had been drawn by City Counselor Senti of St. Louis.

PROTECTION FOR 'SILENT COPS'
Police Order Follows Acts of Van-dalsism to Two Traffic Signals.
A general order for all policemen
to watch over and protect "silent cops" has been issued by Chief O'Brien, following vandalism to two automatic traffic signals at St. Louis and Elliott avenues, at Angelica street and North Florissant avenue.
Vandals smashed the glass in these and removed and threw away
the "stop" and "go" frames.

$25,000 Bond in Killing Case
WICHITA FALLS, Tex., March 2.—
Frank Collier, former Mayor of Wichita Falls, Tex., charged with murder, was granted bond yesterday in the sum of $25,000. Collier, who had been denied bond following his indictment, had made application for a habeas corpus writ.
He is charged with murder for the killing of his son-in-law, Ed Robertson.

Present New Conceptions in Dress
Models and Indispensable Topcoats

At $29.75

THE Dress Coats in this group offer unusually attractive models. They are made of smart twill and will cord, enhanced by clever self-trims. Side pleatings, braid, stitching and embroidery increase their chic. These Coats are silk-lined. Black, navy, wigwam, waffle and Chili lead the appealing range of colors for Spring. The illustration at the right will give you an inkling of how attractive these garments are.
In all the wanted sizes.

The Topcoats, indispensable for travel, business and general wear, provide chic, serviceable models in tweeds, heather mixtures, polairs, diagonal tweeds and soft plaids. Some are full lined with peau de cygne, others half lined with silk serge. All the desired sports shades.

At $49.75

Of wrap-like grace are the new arrivals in Dress Coats appearing in this group.
Unusual style development and the use of the new, smooth fabrics distinguish these Coats. They appear in twillbloom, Poiret twills and twill cords in the soft Spring shades—also black and navy.

Distinctive Topcoats are assembled in this price group in speckled tweeds, deerona, homespun, basket weaves and many other attractive fabrics. Double-breasted front belted back, flaring swagger models and other new styles, each lined and smartly tailored, comprise this attractive selection.

Don't Let
High Blood Pressure
Worsten Your Life

Stop It—Read This.

Many surprise you to know high blood pressure is so serious that insurance companies refuse to issue policies to those who have it. All it shortens life.
High blood pressure gives little warning and until certain symptoms show, you do not know it. They head pains, flushed face, hot dizzy spells, shortness of

DOLLARS NOT PENNIES
FOR PATRONS AT JOE'S

Two Who Swagger a Bit After Visiting Arcade Fined $5
in Police Court.

Saturday night's the big night
at Joe Bonsignore's penny arcade,
the one at 1600 Market street, where you stick a penny in the slot
and turn the handle and see all the beautiful pictures of the girls
on the beaches, or the Dutch comedian who bangs his picture partner
over the head with a frowzy bladder.

Saturday night's the night when Joe rakes in the pennies, and Saturday night's the night when Joe wants it peaceful, so everybody will go from one penny show to another without anybody interfering,
or starting some rowdy that's going to take Jake's customers' minds off
the flickering pictures.

Pair Swaggers a Little Bit.
Well, last Saturday night was busy, just like they all are. The Dutch comedian was beating his partner for the millionth or something time, the beautiful bathing girls were cavorting on the paper beaches, all the cranks were turning nickels into pennies, customers were crowding her for their turn, others were surging through the aisles, young men were dropping cents in the bag-punching machine and seeing what they could make it register, Joe was busy with his camera making pictures of couples, pictures developed while you wait, Joe's assistant
"Shorty" Gladstein, was parading around, keeping customers in line,
helping them get their pennies telling them which machines showed this and which that.

Enter Alonzo Harper, 23 years old, and his pal, Frank Tyler, 21.
Up they go to the bag-punching machine, Alonzo plops a penny in the slot, takes a crack at the bag,
sees it register. "Pretty good," says
Alonzo. "Pretty good," says
Frank. They swagger a little bit Alonzo, because he punched pretty good, Frank because he's Alonzo's friend. So they swagger up and kid the girl who changes nickels into pennies.

Detective Prevents Hostilities.
"Cut it out," says "Shorty" Glad-stein. "None of that," says Bonsignore. Tyler and Harper go outside. But first they grab pop bottles. "Come on, you," shouts Harper, "come out here and take your beating. We can lick!"
They don't say any more because Detective Sergeant Ed Behnken saunters along. He's as big as both of them together.

"And they wanted you to come out and fight?" City Attorney Hackman asked Gladstein yesterday when they all got into Police Court. "Absolutely," answered Gladstein. "What was that?" inquired Hackman. "Absolutely," replied Gladstein. "Five dollars in Harper's case," Judge Homer pronounced. "The same in Tyler's."

THREE SUITS BY DROVERS' RECEIVER ARE DISMISSED

By the Associated Press.
DANVILLE, Ill., March 3.—
Three suits by S. R. Karraker, receiver for the Drovers' National Bank of East St. Louis, Ill., against

Fred L. Schroeder, M. L. Murphy and August Eggman, all stockholders in the bank, which closed its doors May 22, 1924, were dismissed
yesterday on motion of the attorneys for the receiver, who stated that the case had been settled.
In liquidating its tangled affairs,
the bank levied a $200,000 assessment upon its stockholders on the basis of $100 on each share of stock, by order of the Comptroller of Currency at Washington.

Some 14 suits were brought by the receiver against stockholders who refused to pay this special as-essment.

ST. LOUIS HIT BY AUTO IN JEFFERSON CITY DIES
Hugh Cassidy, 62, Had Been Employed as Assistant Doorkeeper in House of Representatives.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 3.—Hugh Cassidy, 62 years old, of 2822 North Prairie avenue, St. Louis, who has been employed as an assistant doorkeeper in the hall of the House of Representatives during the session of the Legislature, died in a hospital here last night of injuries suffered a week ago, when he was knocked down by an automobile in the capital grounds.
Cassidy was taken to a hospital after the accident, but was discharged in a few days when it appeared that his injuries were not serious. Yesterday he collapsed while at work in the House hall and was returned to the hospital.
He was run down last Tuesday by a machine driven by A. J. Brandt of Taos, Mo., in front of the capital. Witnesses declared the accident unavoidable. Cassidy had been coming to Jefferson City during legislative sessions for several years. He was given his appointment by Representative Davidson of St. Louis. The body will be taken to St. Louis tonight.

11 YALE STUDENTS HELD IN RAID
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MILFORD, Conn., March 3.—As the result of a raid by the local police on the Pembroke Hotel here last Saturday night in the heart of this popular summer resort, 11 Yale students and nine women companions were arraigned in the Town Court here yesterday on charges of frequenting.
On the complaint of winter residents of this shore resort, Chief of Police Maher and a detachment of 10 policemen took the revelers by surprise late Saturday night, confiscating bottles of gin and whisky. The men gave Yale dormitories as their addresses. The police here say that they have clamped the lid down tight on a rendezvous for Yale men during the winter, declaring that the proprietor catered solely to Yale students during that season.

'BRAIN SHARPEST AT 16 YEARS'
Educator's Statement After Study of Human Intelligence Data.
LONDON, March 3.—Human intelligence appears to reach the maximum at the age of 16 years, according to deductions set forth in a book by Geoffrey H. Thompson, professor at Armstrong College, Newcastle-on-Tyne.
These deductions, it is explained, were made after careful research of a mass of statistics on the subject, and indicate that a person may add to his book learning and his knowledge of the world as the years go along, but that he will never have a sharper brain with which to tackle problems than when somewhere about 16 years.

Child Burned to Death in Home.
By the Associated Press.
UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 3.—A 3-year-old child, one of four locked in a house at Leckrone by their mother while she was absent, was burned to death yesterday when fire destroyed the house. Neighbors, who rescued the other three, overlooked the youngest one.

GLORIOUSLY soft and light materials are featured in semi-tailored Ensembles peculiarly adaptable to the needs of the business woman. The Frock, usually in a late tailored mode, is developed in an exotic silk print or a contrasting solid color. The coat is simply tailored. Suits of dark silk faille and Kasha (shown in this group) are conceded to be the success of the season as a costume for the dinner downtown, or the theater. These are models extremely youthful in effect.
Tailored Ensembles Flaunt Smart Fabrics

VICTIM OF ROBBERY FINDS HIS WATCH ON BARTENDER

He Dropped Into Saloon While on Way to Report Holdup to the Police.

On his way to a police station yesterday to report being robbed and slugged Feb. 29, Frank Lynch, 364 West End place, dropped into a saloon at 2951 Washington boulevard for a drink, and discovered the bartender was wearing Lynch's stolen watch, fob and chain. He then had the bartender, Joseph Caldeone, arrested.

Lynch was held up by an armed man at Olive and Twentieth streets and robbed of $3.95 and the jewelry valued at $20. The robber hit Lynch so hard that he was confined to his bed until yesterday, when he left it to tell the police.

Caldeone told police the watch, fob and chain were thrown on his bar a few days ago by a customer who asked $5 for it. After some drinks and conversation, Caldeone bought it for $3 and thought he had a bargain until police took the jewelry from him.

ILLINOISAN DISAPPEARS HERE

Was Taking Treatments at St. Luke's for Broken Collar Bone.

Police have been asked to search for Ora E. Brown, 37 years old, of Redmond, Ill., who came to St. Louis several weeks ago to receive treatment at St. Luke's Hospital for a fractured collar bone and who has been missing since last Wednesday.

He was living at the Windermere Hotel, Clara avenue and Delmar boulevard, going once a day to the hospital. He failed to appear for treatment Thursday and an investigation into his disappearance was begun by his brother, Guy C. Brown, also of Redmond, who believes that the missing man, who is a war veteran, is suffering from a mental lapse. Brown is a member of the Masonic lodge of Paris, Ill.

FIVE MAYORALTY
CANDIDATES HEARD
ON CITY ISSUES

Miller, Dieckman, Aloe,
Byrnes and Hall Each Naively Suggests He Is Proper Man for Post.

POLITICAL MACHINES
DENOUNCED BY ALL

Selection of a Man Qualified to Administer Municipal Affairs Honestly and Efficiently Stressed.

Five mayoralty candidates, who addressed the Million Population Club at the Claridge Hotel last night, agreed that the chief issue
in the campaign for nominations
March 15 is the selection of a man qualified to administer the affairs of the city. It was generally conceded that platforms were similar and that all candidates were sincere in their desire to govern honestly and efficiently.

There the concord stopped. Each naively suggested he was the proper man to succeed to the chair.
Mayor Kiel has occupied for 12 years. Partial agreement was reached on the proposition that the Republican and Democratic City Committees constituted "usurping and dictatorial machines." The greater weight of the oratory of last night toward that point.

Miller Opens the Discussion.

Victor J. Miller, former president of the Police Board, began the discussion. George E. Dieckman, resident of the Zoological Society, followed. Louis P. Aloe, former resident of the Board of Aldermen, took it up and passed the burden on to James W. Byrnes, Democratic nominee four years ago, the one Democrat who spoke, and it was concluded by Circuit Judge
Robert W. Hall, former Circuit Judge J. Hugo Grimm, detained by previous engagements until the meeting was concluded, arrived too late to add his voice to proclamations of the evening.

Miller emphasized the need for selection of a man who, unfettered
by previous political promises,
could appoint a capable and honest
board of Public Service. In furtherance of his belief that he had the executive capacity to name capable men, he pointed out that the promotions he had made in the Police Department were unchanged
when he was dismissed by Gov.
Lyde. He discussed economy in municipal affairs and said two avenues were open. Activities of the municipality might be restricted,
he pointed out, or they might be conducted more economically than in the past.

"The entire thing resolves itself nearly to a question of the man," Miller said. "If you choose a man who owes his election to a group which places its own selfish interests above good government, then,
of course, it cannot be expected that he will make the best appointments. I represent a cause, the cause of good government. If there were a man supporting me for myself alone, I would eliminate him.
Every supporter of mine is promoting the cause of the people before the candidate."

Miller on Mayor's Powers.

Miller then discussed the Mayor's power. He said it made possible a group of reformers where "thieves
in things" congregated and an elimination of the same element by constant arrest and prosecution under various ordinances. He pointed out that the City Marshal was empowered to make such arrests
and that the Mayor had the power to appoint the City Marshal. "It true," he said, "that the City Marshals, whose Judges are appointed by the Mayor, have only the power to fine. Constant arrest and fines would soon eliminate the criminal element."

Dieckman took up the oratorical
flag and flayed "machine politics" which he defined as the practice of "a few men" picking out a candidate and nominating him and presenting him to the people for election. "The reformer," he said, "is the man who is not in the hands of the people if they only vote at the primary," he said. "The machine" is at its best in the primary. It turns out in the primary. The people will elect and then have only the chance to approve what they have elected. The machine, however, allows the machine to be elected.
The political group which now controls the city hall is wasting the money of the taxpayers' money in the support of the Major Research Bureau. The supporting her father-in-law, the poor man with the family, and all of us are contributing to the perpetuation of this waste and extravagance as

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER

Published by the Pulitzer Publishing Company, Twelfth Boulevard and Olive Street.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the public welfare, never be swayed by party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The name and address of the author must accompany every contribution, but on request will not be published. Letters not exceeding 200 words will receive preference.

A Letter to Representative Robinson.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THIS is an open letter, and I am sending it to the St. Louis papers and Kansas City Star, with request to print: Hon. Walter Robertson, House of Representatives, Jefferson City, Mo.

"Dear Sir: In the report of the discussion on the Harper bill published in the Globe-Democrat Thursday, you are quoted as saying that you were a former race horse owner and that you had horses pulled in races and had received money for it.

"I have been connected with racing as a newspaper man and official for over 30 years, and I have never known you in racing, and if you have been properly quoted, you do not belong where decent racing is conducted.

"Discussions on the floor of the House of Representatives are public utterances, and I demand, as a citizen of the State, that you make public explicitly the places and races in which you had horses pulled. If you fail to do this, we will accept that you made deliberate misstatements to the people of Missouri. If you can name the explicit occasions on which you had horses pulled, you should resign at once your position as a member of the Legislature. It is a terrible indictment against our system of legislation if a confessed turf or other crook can assist in making the laws under which we must live.

(Signed) "JOSEPH A. MURPHY."

Feb. 28, 1925.

Legal Status of Christian Science.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

SUNDAY'S Post-Dispatch contains an article from Jefferson City relating to the amendment introduced by Senator Cave to Senate Bill No. 53. Senator Cave's amendment provides that the medical practice act shall not apply to the practice of Christian Science. The article in question referring to this bill says it "did not change in any manner the section of the law which stipulates who may practice medicine, a section which has been construed by the courts to bar Christian Science practitioners unless they are licensed physicians."

"This reference is plainly to section 7330 of the revised statutes of Missouri of 1919. Prior to 1901 this section confined itself to the practice of medicine, surgery and midwifery. In that year when the Hall medical bill was passed the attempt was made to include every kind of healing method in the medical practice act. On the introduction of the draught clause, due to attempt to treat of profess to cure the sick or others afflicted with bodily or mental infirmities."

While on several occasions a number of years ago Christian Science practitioners were prosecuted under this section, such prosecutions have always failed and I know of no Missouri court which has held that the practice of Christian Science came under the provisions of the act.

Senator Cave's amendment, if adopted, would conform the law to such court decisions as we have had in this State and would recognize Christian Science practice as entirely separate from the practice of medicine. General public opinion has so regarded it for many years. This amendment would simply indicate the religious freedom guaranteed by the Constitution, as Christian Science healing is essentially religious and does not invade the field of medicine.

ARTHUR P. de CAMP,

Christian Science Committee on Publication for the State of Missouri.

Faulty Des Peres Design.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

AS I worked on the section A of the River Des Peres contract for a long time, I would like to give you my impressions.

The present design is no good, as the banks keep caving in and filling the channel full all the time and choking up the sewer, these back up in our basements filling same with mud and sewage.

Next to the faulty design the worst blunder was for the City Engineer to order the contractor to cease work last October. Out in Maplewood we understand the city refused payment on several thousand yards of excavation; also for removing slush and replacing dry dirt for foundation to lay concrete on, and all dry concrete placed by the men, to lay the block sewer on, thousands of sacks of cement laid in quicksand and soft ground to make the sewer a foundation. This work was ordered by the city men and should be paid for. I guess the city is paying enough now!

The season last year was the worst we have had for 20 years and this should have been considered by an experienced engineer. Would suggest a new design by a capable man, and start all new.

G. A. BROWN, Maplewood, Mo.

ENGLISH INVESTIGATION ASSURED.

The reasons which led the Senate to immediate adoption of the resolution for the investigation of the charges against Judge George W. English of the Eastern Illinois Judicial District undoubtedly will move President Coolidge to sign the resolution. The House asked for authority to perform its constitutional function in the case of Judge English on evidence which it deems sufficient to justify procedure. So the Senate and the President cannot in reason do otherwise than enable the House to proceed.

It may be assumed, therefore, that the investigation of the court in connection with the conduct of former Referee in Bankruptcy Thomas will proceed. Whether the resignation of Judge English, which is the subject of a rumor, would stop the investigation depends upon the nature of the charges. Some of the charges with regard to improprieties in Judge English's conduct and evidence supporting them are serious. They may involve something more than mere impropriety or tyranny. They may call for investigation regardless of Judge English's own action.

Grave charges against the character and conduct of a Federal Judge cannot be dismissed lightly nor ought to be avoided by the easy method of resignation. Resignation is in the nature of confession and evasion. But it does not satisfy the demand for investigation and either vindication or punishment in serious cases. Nothing short of a thorough inquiry with a definite conclusion will do that.

What shall be done in this investigation depends upon the judgment of the subcommittee charged with the duty of conducting the inquiry. It has made a preliminary investigation which justifies, in its judgment, the continuance of the inquiry. Further investigation will determine what the duty of the subcommittee is. It can act only in the light of full knowledge of the nature of the charges and the evidence submitted to it. It has ample material to work on. The charges have been formulated, a list of 70 witnesses supplied and the character of the evidence which is available clearly indicated.

The committee's course is clear. Either Judge English must be vindicated or suffer the consequences of misconduct, to the end that the Federal courts be purged and public confidence in them restored.

GRAND OPERA IN ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis is to have this week a musical fiesta of no little importance. Despite the presence of the Symphony Orchestra, no musical appetite is completely satisfied without at least a taste of the high color and drama of the opera. So the coming of the Chicago Civic Opera Company is awaited with keen interest. This company, made brilliant by such voices as Chaliapin's, is to sing "La Gioconda," "Mefistofele" and "Tannhauser."

While in Europe the opera is a commonplace, and, indeed, in many regions, is the great popular amusement, only a few cities in the United States have found it possible to support a resident opera company. American opera remains almost an inaccessible luxury because of the enormous costs of production, on the one hand, and popular apathy on the other.

Thus St. Louis must be content with three performances of a first-grade company. Even this short stay of the Chicago company is in the nature of an experiment. It is the company's first visit and it may be its last, depending on the nature of the welcome. Certainly, a city of St. Louis's size, importance and cultural pretensions, if not possessing an opera of its own, should at least assure itself a place on the itinerary of important traveling companies. The only possible way to do that is by evincing interest on occasions like the present one.

PLAYING "THE GAME."

"We've got to have somebody who will play the game," said Senator Warner, pleading with the State Senate not to confirm the nomination of Mr. Orrick as head of the Board of Police Commissioners of this city. This is the core of the objection urged by Senators Warner, Anderson and others against both Orrick and Freund, selected by Gov. Baker for Police Commissioners.

Never was a better argument for confirmation urged. Everybody knows what playing the political game in a metropolitan police department means. It means ruin for police efficiency and law enforcement.

Surely the Democratic majority, at least, in the Senate does not want the game of Republican politicians played with the St. Louis police.

THE MISCHIEVOUS KAROLYI.

Just what villainous mischief Count Karolyi is suspected of by the State Department is carefully withheld. We only know that he is forbidden to engage in what is termed "political activity." But the nature of the mischief may be guessed by a glance at Count Karolyi's record, which is full of mischievous affairs.

In the feudal and monarchic state of Hungary, Count Karolyi was wicked enough to oppose his country's entrance into the war on the side of the Central Powers. As a member of Parliament, he committed the sin of opposing the ruthless and savage submarine methods of Germany. As the end of the war came in view, this incorrigible man advocated a separate peace for Hungary, which brought upon him the wrath of Potsdam and Junkerdom.

These acts were preliminary to an even more heinous form of mischief, the setting up of a republic in a land which had been governed for centuries by Emperors and feudal Barons. Because of his love for American institutions, Karolyi tried to fashion a republic along American lines. This included universal suffrage, equal rights in the courts and religious liberty. Worse, Karolyi undertook to break up the feudal system, by which, in a country of 22,000,000 souls, 2000 persons owned two-thirds of the land.

To begin with, Karolyi broke up his own estate, one of the largest in the country. It has been re-consolidated and confiscated by his feudal successors. Karolyi, even his monarchist opponents will admit had respect for private property. He did not propose to give the feudal estates to the peasants, but to sell them on reasonable terms. But this was only palliation of a frightful form of mischief, which meant that no longer could 22,000,000 persons be ruled heart and soul by 2000 Barons.

This is only a partial list of Karolyi's high crimes and misdemeanors, yet it explains fully why he is being persecuted, and indicates the kind of politics he would engage in if the State Department would permit. Those who are shocked by the things Karolyi did in Hungary may be reassured by the fact that his mischievous reforms have largely been rescinded. The monarchists and Barons have seen to that, and once more the Hungarian peasant has been put in his place.

Karolyi tried to Americanize Hungary, and lives to find America Hungarized.

THE TAX-EXEMPT INQUIRY.

The legislative committee that was sent to St. Louis to inquire into the amount of property exempted from taxation here by reason of its use for religious, charitable and school purposes appears to have begun and ended its investigation with Washington University. If the inquiry is to be impartial it will investigate the tax-exempt property of all of our religious, charitable and educational institutions.

Washington University, Westminster College and a few other institutions are in a class by themselves by reason of having been chartered by special act of the Legislature, empowering them to hold property without limit free from taxation, before the Constitution of 1865 prohibited such grants thereafter. Washington University was chartered in 1853, and its charter has been held by the United States Supreme Court to be a contract which no subsequent Legislature can impair, so long as it uses its property for educational purposes. This was decided in 1865 in a suit by the Collector of Revenue of St. Louis County. The Constitution of 1875 renewed the prohibition on the Legislature to grant exemption from taxation to religious, charitable and educational institutions, except to the extent of one acre in villages and cities and five acres in rural sections. But the property thus exempted must be used "exclusively" for religious, charitable or educational purposes.

The trend of recent decisions is to interpret this power strictly and to deny that property which, in principal or income, is partly reserved or conditioned is entitled to exemption. Such a case arose over property given to Westminster College, with a reservation of a portion of the income by the donor for life.

It will be seen, therefore, that no institution in St. Louis which came into corporate existence after 1865 is entitled to exemption upon more than one acre, while those chartered prior to that time may hold property without limit, so long as it is used for the originally intended purposes.

Although the constitutional provision is very clear that no such institution may be exempted in more than one acre, it has been the practice of our City Assessor for years to ignore this clause and to grant complete exemption, regardless of the acreage these institutions have amassed. It is, therefore, a very embarrassing situation that the Legislature has precipitated, and one that no politician is anxious to pursue. Yet its embarrassments will only increase with time.

Certainly the salaries of Congressmen and Cabinet officers ought to be raised. How else can the Washington bootleggers continue to live in the style to which they have suddenly got accustomed?

BORGUM'S APPEAL TO THE AGES.

The epic project of Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial has fallen afoul of the artistic temperament and the superlative ego. Gutson Borgum aspires to a place of first magnitude in the history of art and affairs. If he is touched with the genius he is also swollen with the self-conceit of other sculptor-evils, Benvenuto Cellini.

Borgum admits without a quaver that he was to have been the creator of "the greatest piece of sculpture in the world's history." His sudden dislodgment from that high commission aroused him to such fury that he destroyed the models and plans of the great memorial. Now he announces that he will "not in jail" to uphold the principle of "an artist's right to his own creation." What an incongruity that an artist who appeals to the ages should resign himself to so selfish a conception of the opportunity and responsibility of genius!

Whether Borgum is a great artist is not the issue. According to the Stone Mountain Memorial Association's statement he was miserably incompetent as an administrator of a great project. The association is responsible for the expeditious application of funds contributed on a nation-wide scale. Its mission is to honor the Confederacy, not Borgum.

The artist, with a grand gesture, dismisses these untalented custodians of a great trust as "small provincial minds." His appraisal under the circumstances will not be accepted by the public.

A booster meeting of the Illinois undertakers and embalmers is announced. Is the cost of dying coming up, too?

NEWBERRYING ST. LOUIS.

One of the Republican candidates for the nomination for Mayor has intoned something pretty close to a recession. The enthusiasm that greeted his earlier overtures has perceptibly cooled, Judge Hall observes.

The shouting and the tumult dies. The radiance has turned to gloom; Where once the cheering rent the skies Now reigns the silence of the tomb.

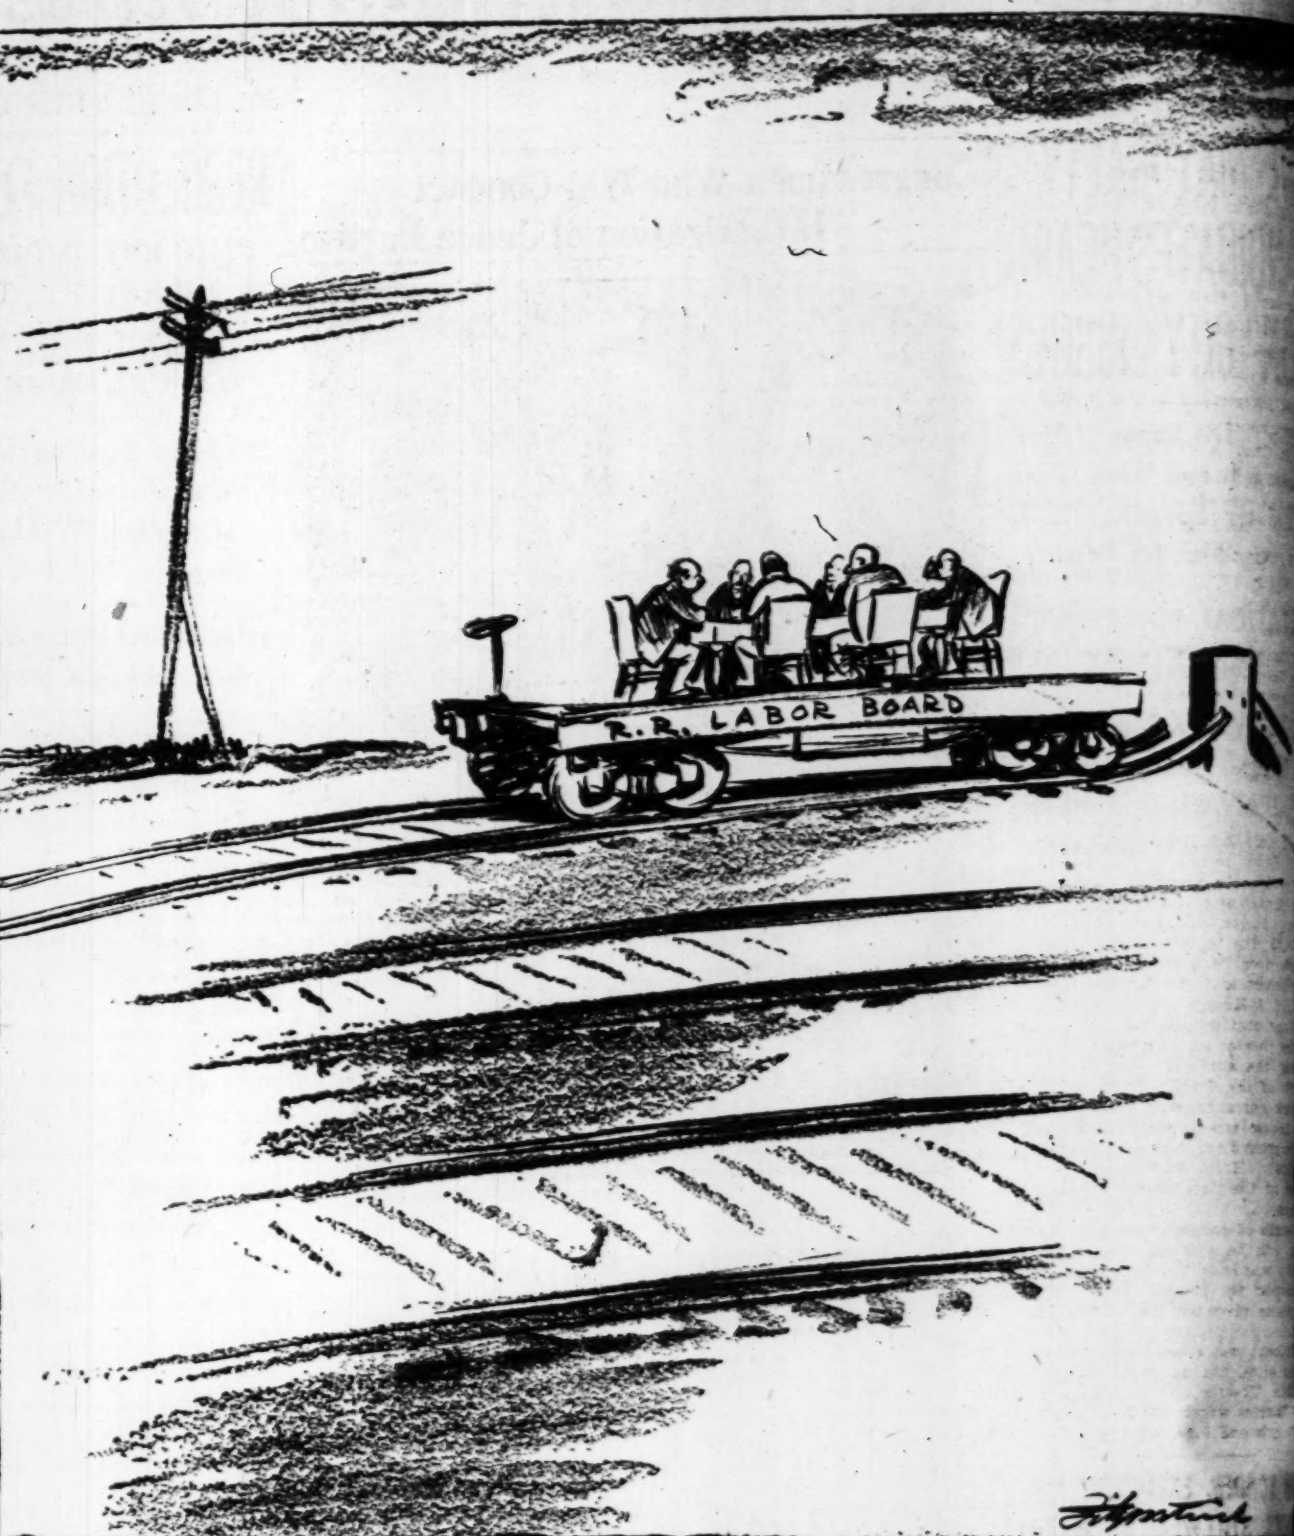

The situation's too serene— What does it mean—what does it mean?

Judge Hall has told us what it means, as he understands it. "We are bordering on a repetition of the Newberry case," he says. He warns the rank and file "not to be swayed by money."

It would be unfortunate, of course, if this garrulous Republican primary should be cluttered up with a scandal. Still, scandals are apt to occur anywhere in politics, you know. And probably you also know that, in politics, the Republicans have developed a sort of coin-complex. They have an abiding faith in the redoubtable dollar. To be sure, they usually direct their golden barrage against the Democrats. But as Dr. Freud has explained, there is a deadly potency in habit. And having got accustomed to smashing the Democrats with money would it be surprising if the Republicans employed the same ammunition in their fratricidal frays? Take it from Dr. Freud, it would not.

Still, the spectacle of a Republican slush fund in a St. Louis political contest seems too divertingly farcical to be true. Granting the moral turpitude of it, such a performance would be the zenith of burlesque.

Osborne Wood, his valet says, used to change his clothes several times a day. There it is again. "Dress well and succeed."

We are afraid that the august Judges of the United States Supreme Court have perpetrated a bit of humor. They say a prohibition officer may search an automobile without a warrant, but only in case he has reasonable suspicion that the car contains liquor. If the suspicion is unfounded, the motorist may sue the officer for damages. Measuring by this standard, we may find but one mail carrier covering a certain district (this is Government efficiency), while in the same district we will find perhaps a half dozen milk wagons, also as many ice, laundry and butcher wagons; all of which waste effort must be paid for by their patrons. So much for the efficiency of individual industry.

Sir: An item in your paper says South Dakota is considered one of the real dry states. That should have been in the joke column. Before prohibition we had three saloons in Butte County. Now we have 100 bootleggers. Prohibition is one big baloney.

A Yap dollar, the biggest coin in the world, is now on exhibition in Tokio. It is five feet three inches wide in one direction, four feet three inches in another and about six inches thick. It is chiseled out of limestone and has a hole in the center. It weighs about 500 pounds.

When a Yap wants to spend a dollar he sets his coin on edge and rolls it down to the store. For this reason stores are usually located in valleys. If he has any change coming he has an uphill job ahead of him, for a Yap dime weighs 50 or 60 pounds. However, this ponderous dollar will buy a couple of Yap wives, so the residents of that happy Isle prize it highly.

Sir: The only difference between the people who are riding Coolidge and Cal himself is that the latter is riding an electric horse for a purpose while the former are merely riding a hobby to death.

EVE.

A scientist says the mystery of why we grow old has never been solved, but we think we can explain it. We wear ourselves out wondering why, given such a beautiful world in which to live, we can't live in it upon some such terms as were proposed by Christ. It is enough to make a body old.

The honey man was a little German farmer from somewhere out on the Olive Street road. One morning he called at our house in the West End to see how we were fixed for honey. Across the street lived former Gov. Folk, recently returned from Jefferson City. The Governor was at the moment just coming out of his house.

Is that Gov. Folk? the honey man asked.

"Yes," I answered.

"I'm going to get a good look at him," said the honey man, who hurried off to the porch and down the street. He stood at the corner while the man who broke up the gang of thieves in the St. Louis City Hall passed. He got a close-up. Then he walked slowly back to the house, where he had left his honey. We waited for his judgment. He came up the steps, evidently thoughtful, and as he looked up to us he said:

"My, that man's got on a fine suit of clothes!"

Maybe the trouble with Herrin is that it has no shooting gallery.

IDLE THOUGHTS.

In view of the many mistakes which the Weather Bureau makes, why not call it the Whither Bureau? It seems to be an even chance whether its predictions come true or not.

Many people believe that Government operation of industry would be inefficient. One of the first rules of efficiency is that there must be no duplication of effort. Measuring by this standard, we may find but one mail carrier covering a certain district (this is Government efficiency), while in the same district we will find perhaps a half dozen milk wagons, also as many ice, laundry and butcher wagons; all of which waste effort must be paid for by their patrons. So much for the efficiency of individual industry.

Maybe Cal is just trying to make up for what some of the rest of them stole.

We could have some good horses in Missouri if we didn't have so many jackasses. Evidently Osborn was not often taken behind the Wood shed.

THEODORE TRILEY.

The late President of Germany did not live in the Imperial Palace, which is a show place of Berlin. He lived in a modest house without sign of pomp. Our Mr. Coolidge makes a great show of penny-pinching around home, but after all he lives in the White House, the complement of which Ebert made a museum.

The Prince of Wales sends his dues to an organization he joined while in New York. He sets a good example here for some other foreigners, especially France.

Sir: Seen from the Belleville car on the East Side: Garage.

What the painter thinking of a "barage"? Maybe the poor fellow was shell shocked in one and since then has gotten his French mixed up a bit.

AUTOLYCUS.

Sir: A recent news heading: BUREAU SAYS CITY STILL IS LOSING $2,000,000 A YEAR.

I have not paid much attention to these criticisms. They have seemed to me extravagant and having their inspiration in the fiery imagination of cranks; but if the city still is losing anything, or there is a city still even, I think something ought to be done about it.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

From the Wilmington Evening News.

THE imprisonment in a Kentucky cage of Floyd Collins, and his suffering during the period of more than two weeks while the rescue work had been going on, has aroused various humane societies to the use of the cruel steel traps for fur-bearing animals. It is rightly objected by the societies which are directing efforts towards the prevention of cruelty to animals that the steel trap inflicts suffering on its victims and frequently agony of the fur-bearing animals is protracted for days and days, the animal being without food or drink, and suffering similar or even worse tortures than experienced by the victim of the human cavern. It is shown that in some cases where the trapping is conducted on an extensive scale that the trappers are able to make but a single round of their traps a week or longer; meantime the animals are left to suffer not only great pain, but from cold and hunger and the fear that some wild animal will seize such circumstances. It is proposed to substitute some more humane method of trapping fur-bearing animals so that they will be spared the days of suffering and there is to be set afoot a movement to reduce the popularity of fur and to lessen the demand for the pelts and skins of wild animals.

SHUBERT SITE AT 13TH AND ST. CHARLES

Lyman T. Hay in New York to Conclude Negotiations for $500,000 Theater.

Lyman T. Hay, president of the Hotel Jefferson Co., arrived in New York today to conclude negotiations by which the Shubert theatrical interests will buy a site at the southeast corner of Thirteenth and St. Charles streets, upon which to erect a $500,000 theater to replace the present one in the Union Electric Building, on which the lease will expire next November. The site is now owned by the Jefferson Hotel Co. and is held at $300,000.

It is understood arrangements have been completed for financing the new theater and that construction will be started soon.

Erection of the theater on that site would add to the transformation of the west end of the hotel block, as the hotel has announced plans for a $2,000,000 14-story addition and the Roxana Petroleum Corporation is excavating for a 12-story office building on the northeast corner of Twelfth and Locust.

Hay's trip to New York follows conferences here between Hay, J. J. Shubert and the latter's architect, H. J. Krapp.

Plans contemplate the entrance of the theater on Thirteenth street being the sunken garden, just north of the Public Library. A second entrance will be provided on Locust street, which will lead underground through the proposed Jefferson Hotel addition to the rear of the theater by means of ramps.

Details of construction and planning will be worked out later. Crapp was in St. Louis a week ago to inspect the ground and a draft of plans prepared by T. P. Barrett.

Shubert was considering several other sites, among them the Columbia Theater site at Sixth and Charles streets, and a location, Tenth and Pine streets.

JOHN BORDEN, EXPLORER, AND MRS. STILLWELL TO MARRY

Healthy Chicagoan Was Divorced From Wife in December—Stillwell Decease Last Spring.

CHICAGO, March 2.—John Borden, wealthy explorer and sportsman, will marry Mrs. Courtney Stillwell March 14 in Washington, her mother, Mrs. Frank C. Stillwell, has announced.

Borden was divorced from Ellen Walker Borden, daughter of the late James Breckenridge Walker, in December. Mrs. Stillwell obtained a divorce in Paris last year, after 13 years' marriage.

Borden is 40 years old and has two daughters, Ellen, 16, and Marjorie, 15, each of whom he provided with $25,000 a year at the time of his divorce. Mrs. Stillwell is about 15 years younger.

Borden left for Washington, where Mrs. Lettis and her daughter are staying, he said he would spend a few weeks at Aiken, S. C., before leaving for Europe where the summer is returning to Chicago to his Lake Forest estate.

It has been said that a polo field of 12 acres.

Borden gained renown as a polo player on two polar expeditions in 1912 and 1914, and during the World War, when he converted his 475-ton pleasure yacht, the "Albatross," into one of the swiftest of the American navy.

Mrs. Ellen Walker Borden was a divorcee when she charged her husband had thrown a telephone at her in a fit of anger. Mrs. Stillwell's divorce was granted on a technical charge of desertion.

AMBASSADOR HOUGHTON.

From the World's Work.
MR. HOUGHTON is not a poet or a literary critic or historian or journalist or distinguished lawyer, as most of his predecessors have been; he is a personally successful business man. Yet he is a man of the type of the late J. P. Morgan rather than of the type of the scholar, uneducated, dominant American who have played so influential a role in the industrial history of this country.
Preparation for Mr. Houghton's career as a glass maker was a four years' course
at Harvard, followed by graduate work at Göttingen, Berlin, and Paris. This education naturally proved a great advantage in Germany, where Mr. Houghton has been Ambassador for the last three years.
His problems there were largely business problems, for the immediate future in Europe is necessarily one of industrial recupera-tion. He succeeded in establishing community relations with the German people
his remark, on his arrival in 1931, that he should keep in his mind, not the 18 months of warfare between Germany and the United States, but "the far more than 18 years of peace and friendship and advanced good will." Mr. Houghton won advanced prestige as an Ambassador by his comprehensive knowledge of the present European problem which, in its details,
certainly enough to tax the ablest business brains developed by this country. His policy of treaties, agreements, reparations,
the economic facts that underlie the European situation is said to be one of the marvels of diplomacy.

MRS. PRICKETT, WIDOW
OF BANKER, DIES AT 70

Principal in Litigation Over Husband's Estate Succumbs
at Edwardsville.

Mrs. Josephine Gillespie Prickett,
70 years old, widow of William Russell Prickett, wealthy banker of Edwardsville, died at her home
there last night, following an operation for appendicitis.

She was stricken last Saturday and an operation was performed at her home Saturday night. Because of her advanced age, she failed to rally. Funeral arrangements have not been completed, pending the arrival of Mrs. Prickett's brother, Charles F. Gillespie of New York, who survives her.

Following her husband's sudden death in December, 1923, at the age of 86 years, Mrs. Prickett entered into litigation in Circuit Court
here to restrain her three stepchil-dren from opening their father's safety deposit boxes in four St.
Louis banks.

Husband's Estate $330,000.
Although Prickett's estate was valued at $1,500,000 by relatives
and estimated as high as $3,500, 000 by business associates, only $330,000 worth of property was discovered, following his death. His will directed that the estate be divided into four equal parts, one going to the widow and one to each of three children. An exhaustive search was conducted for additional assets, but the will was subsequently executed on the basis of the $330,000 in securities discovered.

Mrs. Prickett alleged that, shortly before his death, Prickett placed a large amount of bonds and securities in safe deposit boxes in his own name and the names of his three children, Mrs. H. Clay Pierce of St. Louis and New York, wife of the chairman of the board of the Pullman Co., and Mrs. Macle

This action, unless enjoined, would defeat Mrs. Prickett's right to her interest in the securities, it was alleged. Judge Hartmann is-dissolved it, when no proof was presented that Prickett had placed

Mrs. Prickett was a daughter and Prickett's second wife. There were no children of Prickett's second marriage.

Lecturer Tells Garden Club of Scenic Attractions of America.

Members of the Garden Club of St. Louis last night were introduced to one of the most recent developments in photography in connection with a lecture at the Wednesday Club auditorium, Taylor avenue and Westminster place
by Fred Payne Clatworthy of Estes Park, Colo., nationally known landscape photographer, traveler and artist, and a specialist in natural color photography.

Eighty slides depicting Western scenery, used by Clatworthy in illustrating his talk on "Scenic Beauty of Western United States," represented one of the largest collections of autochrome plates in the United States.

"No scenery can compare to America's," Clatworthy declared, explaining that the tones and shadings of Nature, which heretofore have defied accurate reproduction,
now could be faithfully copied by means of autochrome photography.

Sublime Scenery.
"There is no more sublime scenery
than the Grand Canyon of Arizona," Bryce Canyon is the most wonderfully colored landscape in the world; the best preserved habitations of prehistoric man are to be seen at Mesa Verde; the hottest and most desolate place on earth is Death Valley, and the varieties of Alpine flowers are 50 fewer than those to be found in our Rockies," Clatworthy said as he changed his slides.

The transparent blues and purples of the Grand Canyon gave way to picturesque scenes of America's first apartments, 1500 years old, at Mesa Verde. From architecture

the lecturer led to Bryce Canyon,
"a fairland of stone," with coun-less pinnacles of pink, gray and white stone rising out of a canyon 1000 feet deep.

Picture From Glacier.
He showed pictures of desert
flowers, cactus and purple verbe-na growing from white sands, desert sunsets and desert colors of pallid gray, mauve and purple.

A favorite with Clatworthy is his slide taken from the crevasse of glacier at an elevation of 13,000 feet. The delicate, scintillating shades of blue, yellow and green, contrasted forcefully with the coloring of brilliant sunsets which followed.

Clatworthy's autochrome picture
have been used in illustrations by a number of magazines.

Strength—
and the Vital Spark

In every little child is a fairy spark—the spark of health that must ever keep warm.
It pales or glows bright as the delicate life
is nourished.

Give strength to that vital Spark! Cherish it! Your care means the difference between dull eyes and bright eyes; between cheeks
without color, and rosy cheeks.

In everything you bake with Valier's Enter-choicest hard wheat grown. This strength is food for the vital spark—the wholesome, nourishing food of good, strong wheat.

Marriage Is Spoiled.

By the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, March 3.—Threatened with a divorce suit, Mrs.
Peggy Tomkinson has obtained an order restraining her husband, Bradford Hill Whiting, from disposing of his property and preventing his intention of fighting the suit. The order was issued after the part of the suit to marry his "affinity."

The restraining order, signed by Judge C. J. Whiting, is for separate maintenance, specifically enjoining Whiting from making deals in the stock market. Mrs. Whiting has lost large sums
in the market.

Mrs. Peggy Tomkinson, who was married to Whiting in 1918, was sued for a divorce so that she could marry her "affinity," has sought refuge in a divorce.

ment, is incommunicado of his own

NAVY LIEUTENANT TO APPEAL TO U. S. COURTFrank E. Kennedy's Plea for Release From Hospital Denied by State Court.

By the Associated Press.

NAPA, Cal., March 3.—Appeal to the Federal courts will be made in the case of Lieut. Frank E. Kennedy, U. S. N., who yesterday was denied a writ of habeas corpus seeking his release from the State hospital for the insane. Thomas L. Lennon, counsel for the naval officer, announced. Petition for a habeas corpus writ will be filed within the next few days with the United States Court, Lennon said, adding that "the fight had only begun."

Lieut. Kennedy was committed to the asylum by naval authorities for observation after alleged insubordination and improper conduct on duty during the time he was in the Orient. On the contentment that the officer had been accused unjustly and committed to the asylum without proper examination, his wife and friends went to his aid.

A petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed in the Superior Court here, which Judge Percy S.
King yesterday dissolved on the ground that a State court lacked jurisdiction in such a case. No other matter was argued yesterday
except jurisdiction.

Brothers Strung Out Credit
On Two Pearl NecklacesSol and Jack Trauss, Starting Firm on $1000 Capital Three Years Ago, Used Gems
to Get More Money.

The Trauss brothers—Sol and Jack—spent an unpleasant three hours yesterday afternoon answering a barrage of questions from Referee in Bankruptcy Coles, Robert A. Bernet, attorney for Harry
A. Gleick, trustee of the defunct
Trauss Jewelry Co., Commercial Building, which attributed its failure last December to the operations of Jacob Ufland of St. Louis and New York, missing head of the National Jewelry Co., Arcade Building, and from Trustee Gleick.

The three questioners were particularly desirous of learning the origin and history of two valuable pearl necklaces used by the Trauss brothers last July to increase their credit in obtaining merchandise for their jewelry company.

The brothers invested $1000 in the jewelry business here three years ago, immediately after their arrival from Poland, their birthplace. They obtained credit on the basis of this investment until last summer, when the two necklaces,
with other "assets," were used by the company to obtain additional credit.

Liabilities of the company were listed at more than $100,000—$66, 000 of which was for merchandise and $33,000 for accommodation notes signed for Ufland—and assets were placed at $20,000, of which $19,000 is due from Ufland,

in the voluntary bankruptcy petition filed by the company, Dec. 5
last. Ufland's jewelry company here is also in bankruptcy.

Asked About Pearls.

Sol Trauss, the younger brother,
who was examined first, did not remember just how old he was or when he was married. He was positive he obtained one strand of the pearls from his brother in Poland several years ago, but he just couldn't remember details of the transaction.

He gave the necklace to his wife and she wore it for a few years, but permitted him to sell it last summer when the company needed money, he testified.

When Jack Trauss took the more specific, but with little suc-

"I was doing a big business in Europe, exporting and importing jewelry, and I got those pearls in Kiev, Russia," the elder Trauss testified. "A jeweler there, I don't just remember his name, told me about the pearls when I visited his store. They belonged to a Russian General who had pawned them in a pawnshop. The General was in the store while my friend was telling me about them and the three of us went to the pawnshop, the jeweler bought the two pearl necklaces and I bought them from him and he settled with the Russian General."

Paid Jeweler in Rubles.

"What did you pay for the necklaces?" inquired Referee Coles. "I don't just remember, but I gave the jeweler several hundred thousand Russian rubles, some platinum and a few diamonds."

"Well, what do you think you paid in American money?" "A few thousand dollars—perhaps $4000, $5000 or $6000."

Trauss testified he smuggled the necklaces into Poland, gave one of them to his wife and sold the other to his brother, Sol, who wished it for his wife. "We had a little business deal and I owed him some money and when I showed him the pearls he said he would like one strand for his wife," the witness said. "I owed him several hundred thousand rubles and I let him have one strand of the pearls and deducted a few hundred thousand rubles from what he owed me."

"About how much would you say he paid you for the pearls in American money?" "Perhaps $15000;
maybe $20000."

$17,000 for Necklaces.
In 1921, when the brothers and their wives came to the United States their wives wore the pearls

and, the elder Trauss testified, no duty was paid on them because the customs officers did not ask if they were genuine.

Last July, when the pearls were turned in to the business, Ufland asked him $20,000 for the two strands. Ufland took them to New York, the witness testified, and when he returned they agreed on $17,000 as the price Ufland was to pay for the pearls. In payment U-fland gave Trauss diamonds and other jewelry valued at $11,000 and was to pay the remainder in cash, he asserted. The money was never forthcoming, Trauss informed Referee Coles.

Trauss said "several drummers
and business men" had seen the pearls but when asked by Referee Coles for the names of these persons, replied, "I just can't remember their names."

With the transaction still unexplained to the satisfaction of Referee Coles and Trustee Gleick, an adjournment was taken until Thursday afternoon, when questioning of Jack Trauss will be resumed.

HUDSON-ESSEX

Outgains All Rivals in St. Louis

For the entire year of 1924, HUDSON-ESSEX Sales in St. Louis and St. Louis County were the automotive nation.

Official registration figures show that—

In actual numerical gain in sales, as compared with 1923, HUDSON-ESSEX surpassed every other make—about a single exception.

In percentage of gain, the HUDSON-ESSEX increase of 26 per cent led every other car that is a prominent
in the market.

The HUDSON-ESSEX percentage of gain was greater than that of any other make among the leading fifteen makes and these fifteen sold 87.8 per cent of all cars sold in St. Louis and St. Louis County.

In the $1000 class the ESSEX percentage of sales gain, 50 per cent, was greater than that of any other make.
It is phenomenal in view of the fact that the aggregate result in sales in this class was a loss of 7.2 per cent.

In the medium-priced class, HUDSON made a gain in spite of the fact that the class showed an average loss of 47 per cent in sales.

HUDSON-ESSEX combined advanced two positions in sales rank; HUDSON advanced four positions and ESSEX advanced nine positions. In January, 1925, HUDSON-ESSEX continued its great sales gains, ranking one position ahead of even its 1924 leadership.

This is the Greatest Proof of Value, for as was 1924 in St. Louis, so was 1924 in every big metropolitan center.
HUDSON-ESSEX everywhere is still the sales sensation of the entire industry.

ALLIES PLAN TO DISARM GERMANY ON TREATY TERMS

Council of Ambassadors Requests Suggestions for Action After Receiving Experts' Report.

FOCH AND CREWE
MEET HERRIOT

Charged That the Germans Maintain Complete Staff
for Army and Have Gun Patterns Stored.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, March 2.—The diplomatic negotiations arising from the report of the Allied Military Mission of Control on Germany's violations of the disarmament clauses in the treaty of Versailles, bringing sharply to the front the question of the future security of France and Belgium, entered an active phase today. It came with the presentation to the Council of Ambassadors of the Allied War Committee's report on the state of Germany's armaments and armed forces.

Marshal Foch, who presented the report, had a long talk with Premier Herriot before the Ambassadors met, and the Marquis of Crewe, the British Ambassador, called on the French Premier just after the Ambassadors adjourned. These visits gave added importance to the council meeting, which was one of the briefest the Ambassadors ever held.

Would Force Treaty Action.
After hearing Marshal Foch, the Council asked that the Allied War Committee "Make suggestions which it believes will be capable of assuring the disarmament of Germany, according to the treaty of Versailles." This is understood in diplomatic circles as showing that the Ambassadors already were convinced that something must be done to oblige Germany to keep her engagements.

The talks Foch and Crewe had with the Premier were partly with reference to the disposition to be made of the Foch report and partly to consider the question of an interview between Herriot and American Chamberlain, British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, when Chamberlain passes through France shortly, either on his way to the League of Nations Council meeting at Geneva or on his way back.

The opinion of Foch and his colleagues of the Allied War Committee is that the report of the Military Control Mission shows that the Germans persist in their determination to maintain a complete staff of officers for an army, such as existed prior to 1914. Also the committee believes Germany is educating not only officers and subalterns to this end, but, under all sorts of camouflage, is training enough young men to mobilize a strong fighting army whenever it wishes to do so.

Storage of Cannon Patterns.
Among the details of the mission's report, to which the military experts refer, is the discovery of steel mills walled up from the eyes of indiscreet, where are stored the patterns and molds of the most improved type of cannon and tubes that in a short time could be completed into guns ready to fire. Tips given by German pacifists led to many discoveries of this sort, including more new rifles than would be required to arm the entire German Army on the basis of the Versailles treaty.

Information given by workmen employed in chemical factories led to the finding of conclusive evidence that facilities for the production of asphyxiating gas have been left intact as they existed at the end of the World War. The report on this point confirms evidence which the allies have had for some time to the effect that the Germans had erected new factories that could almost instantly be devoted to the production of vast quantities of the most deadly weapon which the war developed, and which had just begun to demonstrate how deadly it could be made when the conflict ended.

These discoveries, in the opinion of the military experts, are regarded as the more important by proofs of the excessive military staff and the training of young men of Germany for an army such as that with which the Germans entered the war.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Internal Revenue Bureau has resumed the payment of refunds to taxpayers on national resource valuation and amortization claims which were held up at the request of the special Senate committee investigating the bureau. Approximately $40,000,000, taken from taxpayers in over-assessments, have been tied up from funds appropriated by Congress for repayments, idly as the clerical work in the collector's office can be done.

ROSENTHAL PAPER CO. TAKES LEASE ON SIX BUILDINGS

Will Use Structures on Second and Dorcas Streets for Manufacturing and Warehouses.

The Rosenthal Paper Co. has acquired a long lease of the six three and one-half story buildings at the northwest corner of Second street and Dorcas avenue, formerly occupied as the stables of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Co., which will be used by the paper concern for manufacturing and warehouse purposes. Another building is to be erected on the east side of Third street near Dorcas avenue for the Rosenthal company.

The buildings are of fireproof construction and embrace approximately two blocks of ground giving more than 100,000 square feet of floor space. A private switch of the Manufacturers' Railway serves this section. The lease was arranged by the John B. Krieger Real Estate Co.

THREE MEN ORDERED HELD FOR MURDER OF MINER

Rosario di Matteo of Collinsville, Shot on Street Here Several Weeks Ago, Dies in Hospital.

A coroner's verdict of homicide, holding Salvatore and Nat Acquaviva and Jack Lo Nigro, was returned at an inquest today into the death of Rosario di Matteo, Collinsville miner, who died at the city hospital yesterday of bullet wounds inflicted several weeks ago by a gang who fired on the man on Eighth street, between Wash street and Franklin avenue. Lo Nigro has not been apprehended. Before his death, Di Matteo accused the three Italians of the crime, relating that Salvatore Acquaviva had induced him to come to St. Louis to look up a birth certificate and was one of three men who attacked him.

LOUISIANA COURT UPHOLDS SEGREGATION ORDINANCE

Measure Prohibits Negroes and Whites From Living in Each Other's Neighborhoods.

By the Associated Press. NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—The Supreme Court of Louisiana put its stamp of approval on the "segregation ordinance" passed by the City Council some weeks ago which prohibits negroes from establishing residence in white residential neighborhoods and whites from residing in negro neighborhoods.

The case was the outgrowth of a suit for a restraining injunction by a white man residing in one side of a duplex house to prevent the owner from renting the other side to negroes.

SLAYER OF FORMER WIFE'S HUSBAND HELD FOR MURDER

Michael Mueves, Testifying at Inquest, Again Admits Shooting August Lehosky.

A coroner's verdict of homicide was returned today, holding Michael Mueves, 35 years old, of 3670 Hickory street, for the death of August Lehosky, 49, of 4328 Gano avenue, who died yesterday of a bullet wound inflicted by Mueves Saturday. Mueves admitted the shooting, laying it to jealousy over the recent marriage of Lehosky to Mueves' former wife. Testifying at the inquest today, Mueves again admitted the shooting.

Now is the season to serve PRUNES! And this is the way to buy GOOD PRUNES

The cold weather diet calls for plenty of fruit—especially for breakfast. On the proper balance of that meal depends much of your efficiency throughout the day.

Nearly all breakfast foods, such as eggs, cereals, meats, etc., are highly concentrated—rich in nutriment, but lacking in the bulk and body needed to keep them moving through the alimentary canal.

That's why it is so important to start breakfast right. Begin with Prunes—the fruit that takes first choice with so many eminent doctors and dieticians.

As a breakfast fruit, Prunes are in a class by themselves. They have all the natural body and tender fruit tissue—plus the mild, delicate flavor that enables you to eat them in generous enough quantity to provide the proper breakfast balance.

And Get the Best Prunes!

Serve Prunes often now—and be sure you get "SUNSWEEET," California's finest Prunes—not only because they are so good to eat—not merely because they are so really good and healthful for you—but also, because they are one of the most economical fruits you can put on your table.

Ask your grocer for SUNSWEEET PRUNES—sweet, plump, thin-skinned fruit, from the famous orchards of California—grown, selected and packed by the growers themselves. Protect yourself! Buy SUNSWEEET PRUNES, always clean and fresh, in the convenient, new 2 lb. carton—or in bulk, from the regular 25-pound box. You will be delighted with their uniform high quality.

SUNSWEEET California PRUNES

TRY THIS QUICK WAY TO COOK PRUNES

Wash SUNSWEEET PRUNES, cover with hot water and allow to soak one hour. Bring to the boiling point in the same water in which they were soaked, cover and cook until Prunes are tender, from thirty to forty-five minutes. Add sugar ten minutes before removing from fire. Allow one tablespoon to one cup of Prunes, measured before soaking or cooking. If a thick syrup is desired, remove Prunes to serving dish when tender, and boil the liquid until it is of the desired consistency. A little orange peel, lemon juice or stick cinnamon improves the flavor for some tastes.

FOREIGNERS IN FRANCE STILL GO WITHOUT IDENTITY CARDS

Rule Adopted Last October Is in Effect but Enforcement Has Not Been Started.

PARIS, March 2.—The decree ruling that all foreigners who intend to remain in France for a fortnight or more must apply for identity cards within 48 hours of their arrival went into effect theoretically March 1. There has been no rush to the prefecture of police by foreigners, however, and it is just as well, for the bureau charged with foreign identity card service has made no preparation to receive them. Surprise was expressed yesterday when the officials were informed that the rules adopted last October had become operative.

"Foreigners need not worry about the new regulation for the time being," the correspondents were told at police headquarters. It was added that the rule, although effective in law, was not being enforced in fact, and would not be until official notification had been received from the Ministry of the Interior.

At the Ministry it was said ample warning would be given to foreign residents before the decree was rigidly enforced, if ever. Strong pressure is being brought to bear on the Government to rescind the measure. Hotel men and the National Tourist Bureau of France are taking the lead in opposing the decree.

PROPERTY OWNERS LEND CITY $1000 FOR SEWER WORK

Action Will Permit Delmar Boulevard Widening to Go Ahead Without Delay.

A delegation of property owners and merchants along Delmar boulevard, between Hamilton and Clara avenues last week got permission from Comptroller Nott to advance the city the $1000 needed to act back the sewer intakes on curb corners to conform with the proposed street lines after Delmar 4 widened 18 feet. When they were informed that the appropriations for sewer construction and resurfacing had been used up.

The loan will enable workmen to proceed with the street widening which otherwise would have been delayed until May 1 when the appropriations for the next fiscal year are made. The cost of the project is estimated at $38,858, and the contract has already been let by the Board of Public Service. The $1000 loan which is being collected by the property holders will be returned to them when the next sewer appropriation is made.

"During 60 years of Married Life"...

Three Generations Kept
Healthy and Happy

"Beecham's Pills were always considered indispensable by my parents during sixty years of married life and I am never without them in my home, as they are used when required by myself (aged sixty-one), and wife and children. This covers a period of over eighty years.

My wife and sons also believe there is no remedy for constipation and biliousness equal to Beecham's Pills. So many so-called "cures" for biliousness and kindred troubles leave after effects that are certainly injurious, but Beecham's Pills give prompt relief and leave one in a healthy and happy condition."

78 FASHION FEATURES

The March Journal is crammed with Spring fashions—pages and pages of them. On page 75 you will find your Easter bonnet from Paris—and how different the crowns are!

Spring clothes—suits, coats, and frocks—show new lines, fabrics, and colors—and the colors are very new. Fashions for every type of woman.

Dresses for young girls; clothes for the business woman. Sports wear for southern resorts. Frocks especially designed for home dressmakers—and, of course, The Journal's Pattern Service.

Don't miss the wonderfully successful slenderizing suggestions for the heavier woman. All in the March Journal, now on sale, 10 cents.

The Story of a Roman Flapper

Why Girls Leave Rome, by Bernice Brown—this rollicking story of a Roman flapper's experiences in the great open spaces will bring many a laugh.

Where the Road Forked, by Florence Baier Ward—a rather old-fashioned young man meets a girl as modern as day-after-tomorrow, and as charming as a heroine from Jane Austen.

I Live in the Camera, by Norma Talmadge—reconstructs her movie career, from the old Vitagraph days and her work with Griffith, right up to her current successes.

In the March JOURNAL, now on sale, 10 cents

How does your Husband Behave?

Dinner, by Clarence Budington Kelland—relates the horrid tale of Jim's disgraceful behavior in the affair of Jane's eight guests and the seven squab.

Brigham Young, by M. R. Werner—carries this remarkable history of the Mormons to the settlement of Salt Lake City.

Cornelia's Mountain, by Booth Tarkington—this charming story of sixteen-year old girlhood holds a smile and a tear—and, perhaps, a bit of a lesson for all of us.

How the Rockefellers Give Millions, by M. A. DeWolfe Howe—is the second in the series of Causes and Their Champions.

Behind the Scenes with French Dressmakers

Dressmakers de Luxe, by Frederic F. Van de Water—setting the world's fashions is a remarkable business; lapped in luxury, veiled in mystery and stage-managed with an art that makes Mr. Belasco appear the veriest amateur.

Kingpin, by Tristram Tupper—an epic of struggle—of the struggle of man with the implacable forces of nature—and of the fierce, passionate struggle of Rosalee and the "Moon-Lady."

An Easy Day, by Elsie Singmaster—this inspiring diary of a civic nurse wins a new measure of appreciation of the splendid work such women are doing.

In the March JOURNAL, now on sale, 10 cents

50 OTHER FEATURES

The Bee Hunter, by Zane Grey—this gripping serial is clear evidence that Zane Grey stands head and shoulders the leader in his field of fiction.

High Noon, by Crosbie Garstin—a sudden, unexpected twist in the first few lines makes the March installment of this romance a thriller.

Modeling My Life, by Janet Scudder—the life story of a poor, lonely girl who became one of the world's great sculptresses.

Salvation by Faith, by William Lyon Phelps—"What must I do to be saved?" Professor Phelps throws on this age-old question the light of years of thought.

A Great Painting by the Greatest Living Artist, Claude Monet, who through E. V. Lucas gives a message to America.

On the Management of a Husband, by Corra Harris—a contribution from the rich store of experience of that wonderful woman.

They Starve for Beauty, by Alice Ames Winter—the mental and spiritual starvation of the isolated country woman; and how it can be remedied.

Rainbow Dementia, by Barton W. Currie—whimsical comment on the blindness of some amateur speculators—and a word of warning to all of us.

Roles, by Feodor Chaliapin—describes the training and study which led eventually to his greatest rôle, Boris Godunoff.

Better Housekeeping, by Mabel Jewett Crosby—roasting meats by temperature is the way to save fuel and to get better results.

Health-Giving Diets for the Growing Child, by Caroline B. King—every mother of growing children will profit by this article.

And dozens of other articles—interior decoration, house-furnishing, building plans, furniture, needlework, child-training, cookery, housekeeping, etc.—all treated by experts.

SORE ARM MAY END CAREER OF RICKEY'S ONLY OUTFIELD REGULAR PIKERS PL

Ray Blades, Handicapped By Injury Last Season, Again on Hospital List

Cardinal Manager Had Decided That St. Louis Boy Would Be Regular Left-Fielder—Pitchers Shields and Reppy Hurt in "Pepper" Game.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
STOCKTON, Cal., March 3.—George Toporcer, the bespectacled infielder who has been a holdout, has wired Manager Branch Rickey of the Cardinals that he will report in Stockton next Friday.

STOCKTON, Cal., March 3.—That Ray Blades, the one member of Branch Rickey's large squad of outfielders who was regarded as already having earned a regular position on the club, may be forced to drop out of the competition temporarily, if not for all time, is the big misfortune that has struck Camp Cardinal.

After the regulars had finished their practice at Oak Park yesterday afternoon the players on entering the club house, noticed Blades sitting on the bench in front of his locker, his elbows on his knees and his face buried in his hands. A close observing fellow player also noticed a tear trickling down his cheek and ending over the fly-chaser, inquired if he had heard any bad news from home.

"None, but I think the old soup hope is gone," muttered the player. The lameness in this same right arm last season kept Blades from being in Branch Rickey's opinion one of the outfielding stars of the National League. He pulled up lame after about four days in training camp last spring but with an occasional rest was able to stagger through the season. He had hoped that the winter's lay off and rest would enable the arm to regain its old time strength but after a few days yesterday he was disappointed.

Blow to Team's Prospects.
The turn of events may prove a sad one, not only to Blades but to the Cardinals. Rickey already had picked Blades as his left fielder and expected the other outfielders in the club to fight it out for the center and right field jobs.

There were other casualties yesterday, none of which is expected to prove as serious as Blades' lame arm, however. During a "pepper" game, Heinie Mueller drove a hard liner that struck Pitcher Vincent Shields, the big Canuck, squarely in the left eye. He dropped to the ground while the ball was in the air from his face to the temple of Pitcher Gaylord Reppy and rendered the Syracuse recruit dizzy.

This morning Shields' eye was closed and he had a headache, having spent a sleepless night. A doctor who examined Shields said he believed his sight was unimpaired but it will be several days before the swelling subsides and he is able to don a uniform. Duke Ferrell, a local product, pitching to the hitters in practice, stopped a line drive with his forehead and was temporarily put out of the running.

"Chick" Hafey, another outfield recruit, is ill and returned to his home in Oakland. There is nothing seriously wrong with Hafey and Manager Rickey decided that some home-cooked food in Oakland would do Hafey more good than medicine in Stockton.

A group of pitchers, including Dyer, Haines, Sothoron, Stuart, Sherdel, Dickerman and the great Mails went through a pantomime football practice session yesterday and thereby obtained a good workout. Dyer, once a gridiron star at Rice Institute, called the signals and the players would dash about half the distance of spacious Oak Park on each down.

Sir Walter asked to pitch to the hitters. With his left arm he flipped the ball over as though it were mid-July. "Better save some of that for the National League season," cautioned Capt. Bert Shotton. "No use of waiting," said Sir Walter. "I'm ready now."

Piker Swimmers Win Every Event From the Aggies

Washington Tank Team Wins Eight Firsts and Seven Seconds in Dual Meet.

Washington University's swimming team, champion of the Missouri Valley Conference, completely outdistanced the Kansas Aggie swimmers in a dual meet at the Wilson pool last night, winning by the overwhelming score of 58 to 12.

So completely did the Washington aquatic stars outclass the visitors, that Coach Vincent Johnson's men captured first place in all eight events and failed to capture second place in but one event, in which the Pikers had only one representative.

Since the Pikers entered two swimmers in every event with the exception of the 150-yard back stroke, this means that every Washington swimmer in the meet finished ahead of the visiting rivals.

Records Are Lowered.
Washington also smashed three conference records. The Pikers' crack relay team, consisting of Capt. Gilbert, Ewerhardt, Ledbetter and Helbing, swam the 200-yard race in 1 minute 43 and 6-10 seconds, lowering their old record by 1 and 5-10 seconds. Jerry Specht, new to the team this year, came through in splendid style to set the time of 3 minutes 1-1-5 seconds in the 200-yard breast stroke. The old record was 3 minutes 4 seconds. The third record fell before another sophomore performer, Ad Ledbetter, who swam the 150-yard backstroke in 2 minutes 11 and 5-10 seconds, lowering the former mark by an 14-10 seconds.

On March 21 the Pikers will be the hosts at the annual Missouri Valley Conference meet at the Wilson pool.

Summary:
200-YARD RELAY—Won by Washington (Capt. Gilbert, Ewerhardt, Ledbetter and Helbing). Time, 1m 43-6-10, old record, 1m 45-1-10.
50-YARD FREE STYLE—Won by Capt. Gilbert (W.). Time, 1m 1-1-5, old record, 1m 1-1-5.

AWARDED $38,000 ON DEATH OF TWO HORSES

CLEVELAND, O., March 3.—A verdict for $38,000 and interest was returned by a Federal jury yesterday in favor of J. H. McMillen, well-known Cleveland horseman, in his suit to collect insurance on the death of two of his horses.

Pilot Stone, star 3-year-old on which McMillen carried a policy for $25,000, was killed on a Maryland race track. Wheaton, a 2-year-old on which he had a $15,000 policy, died here last summer.

The jury awarded verdicts for full amounts.

The Story of BILLIARDS

By CHAS. C. PETERSON
Chapter VII.
EARLIEST BILLIARD CHAMPIONS.

First time in weighing the balls, testing the cushions, etc.
The title changed hands often in the succeeding years. Cook, after defeating Roberts Sr., lost to John Roberts Jr. Cook and Joseph Bennett, each held the championship later, but John Roberts Jr. was recognized as champion as late as 1895.
Yankee Defeats Cook.
During Cook's regime, in 1874, he visited America and "was ill advised enough to tackle" Rudolph at the cannon game, with the inevitable result: still it was impossible to regret that he had taken the trip for he brought back with him the American system of billiard play which at once became so popular that it replaced the old knockout system.
"The American tournament system" referred to is the "round robin" wherein each competitor meets every other competitor. In the English "knockout" system, one defeat meant elimination from the tournament.
(A sketch of the introduction and early development of billiards into America will be given in the next article of this series.)

GALENA (ILL.) BOY IS GREATEST ALL-AROUND ATHLETE AT YALE
By the Associated Press.
HARTFORD, Conn., March 3.—Edward C. Bench of Galena, Ill., today was awarded the Johnny Mack Trophy as being the best all-around Yale athlete. This cup, competed for annually, was presented to Yale in memory of Yale's track coach.
To win it, a Yale athlete must gather the highest total score in a series of events, including the high jump, broad jump, low hurdle, shot put, hammer throw, 50-yard dash and 100-yard run.
Bench, a varsity football player, also is a track man, swimmer and basketball player.

PLAY KANSAS AGGIES IN FINAL AT-HOME GAME, TONIGHT

WRAY'S COLUMN
Perfectly Safe.
AUSTRALIA will send the strongest tennis team it has developed since the famous Brookers - Wilding combination flourished, to play for the Davis Cup this summer. Anderson, Patterson and Hawkes appear to be a formidable trio for any but United States players.
Assuming that Anderson and Patterson will play the doubles, America will be fortunate to win the four-racquet event. In the singles, Anderson and Patterson rank near the top. Brian Norton thinks that Anderson has the finest forehand drive of any player in the world, not even excepting "Little Bill" Johnston.
Neither Anderson nor Patterson can beat Tilden doing anything; while Richards and Johnston both have taken the measure of the visiting stars repeatedly in singles.
With the ranking three players of America in condition, there is no real chance for Australia to break through and take the cup back.
A Voice in the Wilderness.
MANY a faculty knock has been dealt collegiate athletes. Presidents and deans lift their protests against it now and then. Seldom is the roar of the opposition quiet.
But hark to a voice in the wilderness, lifted by Prof. Mendell of Yale, who says:
"It is not too fantastic to claim that athletics makes education safe for the Yale undergraduate. It serves a larger number of students than any other department of the university, and serves as a laboratory course, testing the value of their whole education, both in classroom and on the campus."
High time that physical education was being recognized on a plane of equality with mental. Both are necessary; they are mutually dependent. Neither can be a complete success without the other.
"Sound body, sound mind" is a good slogan for the undergraduate.
Call for Mr. Benjamin!
WILLIE HOPPE appears to be the victim of his own attempt to take in too much territory. Among followers of the game his defeat in the title tournament and his poor showing in the matches he has played to the present time, is ascribed to his invasion of the three-cushion field.
Years ago Willie steadfastly refused to take up three cushion billiards because it interfered with his balking stroke. This year he astounded his friends by arranging a three-cushion series with Champion Cannefax, the week before the current title tournament.
The effect of training for balking on three-cushion exhibitions was apparent in the title journey this week. At no time has Hoppe been the HOPPE of old. Since Willie parted with his manager, Benny Benjamin, he has made many mistakes. A hurry up call for the snappy little man who made Willie's fortune for him, ought to be broadcast immediately.

The Right Idea.
MIAMI, in a racing sense, is showing the way to the world in certain features. Besides having one of the finest and most comfortable stands in the world, it has adopted two innovations that all new tracks should copy.
One is the posting of the total amount of money bet on all the horses in each race and the approximate winning odds against his chances, as revealed by the wagers. These totals and odds are posted five minutes after the race. The betting opens and are replaced at intervals later, to show the progress of the odds. (Closing odds are posted) as the field goes to the post.
Players are thus kept informed almost as accurately as if there were slates and a betting ring of the old school in operation.

The Beau Butler Case.
A NOTHER feature is that the principal judges' stand is on the inside of the track instead of the grandstand side, thus affording minimum obstruction to a grandstand view.
Had the judges' stand been on the INSIDE of the track at Churchill Downs, last Derby day, a mistake that cost holders of tickets on Bracdale to show a small fortune would have been averted in probability.
As the judges' stand across the track from the finish of the derby saw the race, it resulted: Black Gold, Chilhowee, Beau Butler and Altawood.
As revealed by a photograph taken by Clint Murphy, Post-Dispatch photographer, from the INSIDE of the track, Beau Butler was not even in the first flight of horses and the third nag was really Bracdale.
The colors, blinkers and appearance of the horses were similar, but the photograph searched out the differences and proved beyond cavil that Bracdale had finished third.
That excusable error was made because the judges, sitting on the FAR side from the finish, were blanketed from a view of Bracdale on the rail by the nearer horses, Chilhowee, Black Gold and Altawood.
A judge on the INSIDE of the track could not have made the mistake.
Practically every race run on a dry track is finished on the inside pole—and therefore that's the logical place to see from.

HOPPE-CANNEFAX MATCH IS POSTPONED
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 3.—The three-cushion return match between Willie Hoppe and Bob Cannefax, scheduled for Chicago March 15, will be postponed until a later date according to Hoppe. He said the date interfered with his exhibition schedule and the league schedule of the three-cushion champion.

With Hoppe Out, Schaefer Nears Balkline Crown

"Young" Jake Can Clinch Title Tonight by Winning From 16-Time Champion.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 3.—Young Jake Schaefer, who in 1921 tore the 18.2 balkline billiards crown from the brow of the veteran Willie Hoppe, has the best chance of the six competitors, including Hoppe, to take the title in the international tournament here.
The veteran Hoppe, champion except in 1921 for 17 years, relaxed his grasp on his honors last night when he was beaten by Edward Horemans, Belgian champion, 499 to 35 in seven innings. It was his second defeat, he also having succumbed to Erich Hagenlacher, tied with Horemans for second place in the standings.
The Belgian led Hoppe through the championship having the balls under control until the sixth inning when he ran 21, his high for the evening. Horemans opened with a 61, added 121 in the fourth, made six in intervening innings and went out with a high of 25.
Schaefer advanced his title claim in the earlier contest by making Kamekichi Suzuki, the Japanese, the victim of his fourth victory, 400 to 175, in 14 innings.
Young Jake and Hoppe meet tonight. If Schaefer wins, the title is his. If he loses he will be tied for the title with the winner of the Horemans-Hagenlacher match of the afternoon.
The standings:

Leacock Five Defeats Hyatts In Title Series
Second Game to Be Played Tomorrow Night—Shells Meet Brakes Tonight.
The Leacocks, champions of the Municipal Basketball League, won the first game of their title series with the Hyatts at Sherman Park Community Center last night. The score was 35 to 20. The second game will be played Wednesday evening at the same floor.
Tonight, the first game of the Industrial Division championship will be played at Sherman Park, the Shell team meeting the American Brakes. These teams were semifinalists in the open championship competition.
Last night the accurate shooting of Bill Thomas and Dit Goodell gave the Leacocks a margin of superiority which the Hyatts, in spite of good floor work, could not overcome. Brown of the Hyatts was brilliant at times but Harry Heberger, his forward partner, could not hit the basket. Cusens, at center played below form. The Hyatts were charged with nine fouls, whereas only three were called against the Leacocks. The champions counted nine times on 13 free throws, while the Hyatts scored only twice from five attempts.
A capacity crowd, estimated at 2000, watched the game.

Bush Pounds Ball Over Fence And Takes Turn on Pitching Hill

Former Yankee Hurler Outslugs Hank Severid in Long Distance Hitting Contest—Batting and Twirling of Edward Stauffer Features of Brownie Workout.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
TARPON SPRINGS, Fla., March 3.—Joe Bush yesterday celebrated his initial appearance in the training camp here by walloping the ball over the left-field fence. Bush is some mauler of the horsehide. The pitcher who was obtained in a trade with the Yankees by the Browns drove a number of balls over the left-field wall before finishing his day's work, and he also hit a number of line drives.
Bush made wader of a glass of ice water, the loser having to go all the way to the clubhouse for the cold drink, that he could hit a ball harder and farther than Hank Severid. The veteran catcher took up the wader. Hank lost but he claimed that his longest drive had not been hit squarely. Each had three strikes.

Bush started the day by playing a round of golf in the morning with Joe Evans and Dixie Davis. After this Bush visited the ball park, donned his uniform and started his long distance hitting practice. Having his fill of hitting Bush next played the infield and then took a turn on the mound facing all the batters, after which he called it a day.
Bush loves to play ball. He makes the statement that he would rather play ball than to hunt or golf. All of which is highly appreciated by Manager Sisler for the reason that it will not be necessary to wait four days before Joe will be ready to take his turn on the hill. Bush will be ready and eager to go into any game whenever there is the slightest opportunity.
Manager Sisler yesterday gave the squad a very lengthy workout. Every hurler on the squad had a turn on the mound, the practice lasting from the noon hour until after two. Exactly 14 pitchers served up offerings to the batters and, as before stated, Bush was the champion slugger. Elam Vangilder, the big fellow from Cape Girardeau, who has quite a reputation for hard hitting, could not do much, getting only a few long drives. Edward Stauffer, a well-built young man who last year was with the Peoria ball club, ranked next to Bush in the long-distance hitting. Stauffer, a right-handed pitcher but who bats from the left side, poled a number of long drives to deep center.
Stauffer, by the way, displayed a brand of pitching that caused a majority of the boys to take considerable notice. He was putting more on the ball than any other hurler in the squad.
"Spot" Falk was again in uniform, stating that he felt all right. Falk looks better every day and Manager Sisler is immensely pleased with the young left-hander from Texas University.
Manager Sisler continues to hit the ball squarely and hard. The majority of his drives are on a line to right field or grounders through second. Sisler yesterday spent considerable time playing first base in the batting practice, taking his turn with the club and then hustling back to first base.
The fans of this city are becoming more interested every day in the Browns and they were out in full force yesterday. With the ex-

Six Browns Depart For Camp; M'Manus Becomes a Holdout
SIX Brownie athletes departed yesterday afternoon for the St. Louis American League club's training camp at Tarpon Springs, Fla. The players, who will arrive tomorrow morning, are Tobin, Gerber, Robertson, Bennett, Rice and Berninger. The last named is a product of Principia Academy.
Marty McManus, second baseman, failed to sign his contract and did not depart with the squad, thereby joining the ranks of the holdouts. Three Browns are listed now as holdouts, the others being Leo Dixon and Dave Danforth.
There is very little difference between what McManus has asked for and the amount offered by Business Manager Bill Priel and it is considered probable that the two will get together in a few days.
ception of about three or four persons all those present were land owners and real estate salesmen. Only one foreigner was noticed, being from the Greek colony of sponge fishermen and divers of whom there are a great many in this city. The local baseball enthusiasts are preparing for the opening game against Brooklyn March 11.

COMMISSION SANCTIONS PROFESSIONAL BOXING EXHIBITION AT THEATRE
A sanction has been granted by the City Boxing Commission to the Liberty Theater to hold four boxing exhibitions in conjunction with the regular performance Thursday night. The following bouts have been arranged:
112-pound class—Joe Gordon vs. Jackie Wolfe.
150-pound class—Roy Eckert vs. George Butch.
126-pound class—Eddie Reith vs. Walter Roland.
135-pound class—Bill Johnson vs. Gene Riley.
This marks the first sanction of professional boxing in this city since the Jim Mullin bubble burst at the Coliseum more than a year ago. Secretary Bob Junod of the boxing commission said today that the exhibitions were not regarded in the same light as a club boxing show, in as much as no special admission charge is being made for the bouts.

Four Football Rule Changes to Be Taken Up by the Committee

NEW YORK, March 3.
O RADICAL changes in the college football code are expected to result from the meeting of the Rules Committee here March 13 and 14. Four changes urged by officials and coaches include:
Abolition of giving first down on offense penalty unless penalty gives offensive team ball beyond point to be gained.
Restoration of kickoff to kicker's 40-yard line, instead of midfield with permission to use tee of not more than four inches in height.
Fixing responsibility for watching roughness against kicker upon head line-man, instead of referee.
Abolition of giving first down on blocked kick behind line of scrimmage if recovered by kicker's side, unless ball is recovered at or beyond point to be gained.

What to Do for A Persistent Cough

Everybody knows how foolish and dangerous it is to let a cough hang on and on. The proper thing to do is to stop it—quick—and for this purpose there is nothing better than that great old home remedy that our parents and grandparents used so successfully—Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. It often relieves a severe cough overnight. Doctors say there is really nothing like pine tar to quickly loosen and remove the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing, while the honey not only gives a pleasant taste but helps soothe soreness and irritation.

But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey and not some substitute. Dr. Bell's is the original, and has been known for many years as the best. It is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting ingredients, which the best doctors have found to aid in bringing quick relief. Contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, so can be given even to young children—fine for spasmodic cough. If you want the best home remedy in the drug store, get Dr. Bell's, 30c at all good druggists.

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. Marmol's Prescription Tablets overcome all these difficulties. They are pleasant to take, contain no opiates or other harmful drugs, and have the added advantage of cleansing the blood and making the skin clear. A box is sold at one dollar at all drug stores. The world over, send the price direct to the Marmol's Co., 1000 Madison Bldg., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this, you can reduce steadily and easily without going through the usual ups and downs and starvation diet with fear of bad effects. Get a box and start settling slender now.

WIFE OF DARBY DAY JR., AND HER SISTER RELEASED ON BOND

In Pleading Not Guilty, Mrs. Day Says Acid Was Spilled on Husband as She Tried to Kill Him.

By the Associated Press

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., March 2.—Mrs. Bernice L. Day, who was jailed Saturday shortly after she was released from a Hollywood hospital, at which she was treated for poison, was released yesterday under $5000 bond after she had been arraigned and had pleaded not guilty to a charge of throwing acid into the face of her estranged husband, Darby A. Day Jr., son of a wealthy Chicago insurance man.

Carlson Lundstrom, who is accused of assisting her sister, Mrs. Day, in the alleged acid attack, also was arraigned, pleaded not guilty and was released on $1000 bond.

The preliminary hearing for the young women will be held March 16, providing Day, who is recovering from his burns at the home of his mother here, is able to appear as a witness, the court announced.

Mrs. Day, in denying the charges, said that the acid was spilled on her husband when he attempted to prevent her from taking it with suicidal intent.

Darby Day Sr., who arrived from Chicago last week, issued through his lawyer today a statement announcing that his son has "determined to let the law take its course, without an attempt to influence or desire to interfere."

"He is as yet unaware of the wide publicity that has been given to the matter," continues the statement, adding that the young husband's "attitude of tolerance" toward his wife may change "when he fully appreciates the situation."

COLDS IN CHEST QUICKLY RELIEVED BY CRIMSON HEAT

Just rub this wonder ointment on the chest and across the back—Prufrock-Litton's "Crimson Heat" ointment is broken almost immediately, the muscle soreness disappears and you feel new born.

Your grandmother used wintergreen and turpentine to cure this—Crimson Heat is made of wintergreen turpentine, capsaicin and other cold-killing and pain-killing oils. Crimson Heat penetrates to the very root of the trouble—quickly, too.

Remember, Crimson Heat, made only by the Alpen Company, St. Louis, Missouri, cures all pains and soreness every time. Use it at any good drug store, especially where you buy your groceries. John R. Wilson, Johnson Bros., Enderle Stores, Koffler's.

Contains no narcotics or soothing drugs.

Tell your druggist you want only the genuine "Crimson Heat" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Children love the pleasant taste of "California Fig Syrup" and gladly take it even when bilious, feverish, sick, or constipated. No other laxative regulates the tender little bowels so nicely. It sweetens the stomach and starts the liver and bowels without cramping or overacting.

ARRESTED HERE FOR EAST ST. LOUIS KILLING

Art Newman Says He Shot C.
E. Gordon, Former Soldier,
in Self Defense.

Art Newman, East St. Louis hotel proprietor, who has been a fugitive since the fatal shooting of the former soldier in an East St. Louis saloon brawl Friday night, was arrested at 1 a. m. today in a hotel
at Broadway and Pine streets by a squad of East St. Louis and St.
Louis detectives.

His arrest followed a few hours after an East St. Louis coroner's jury returned a verdict holding Newman for the murder of the soldier, Charles E. Gordon, as principal, and Fred Wooten, who is under arrest, as accessory before and after the fact.

"I was just about to call you up and surrender," remarked Newman
to the detectives, when they entered his room, where he was found in company with his wife and two other women. He agreed to waive extradition, but before being taken to the East St. Louis jail, was questioned as to the shooting. "I fired two shots and I guess one hit him," he related.
"I wasn't the only one shooting.
But I've got a trial coming and I'll tell the court my tale. All I did was in self-defense."

At the inquest, two witnesses
gave their versions of the shooting,
which occurred in a saloon at 1901 Market street. It is operated by Carl and Earl Shelton, formerly of Herrin, who were acquitted of the charge of shooting up the automobile of S. Glenn Young, in which gunmen, firing on the car in the Okaw bottoms last summer,
wounded Young and blinded Mrs.
Young. Newman subsequently was accused and acquitted of accessory
in harboring the alleged assailants.

Gordon, who was 29 years old and is survived by his parents, a brother and a sister, was buried yesterday. A firing squad from Jefferson Barracks fired a salute
at the grave.

Girl Dies From Injury in Jail.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 2.—

County jail authorities are investigating the death of Jeanne Taylor of Freeport, L. I., who died in the jail here the night of Feb. 25. The girl, 20 years old, succumbed to blood poisoning from a bruised lip,

received in a brawl in the jail, officers said. She had been held as a material witness against J. W.

Box and Alexander Rhodes, who were arrested by Federal officers on Mann act charges.

INSTALLMENT TWENTY-EIGHT

"He does bother me!" She dared not answer that tone. Wully choked, and turned away, to look out over the prairies again. A rattlesnake, that man was, hiding in the grass, a damned poison snake, and like a snake he should be treated. If it had been a windless day, one might have traced him through the grasses. But now one second of the wind swept away any trace of him. A good dog might have trailed him. But there was no dog at hand. In many places before Wully's very eyes, a man—a snake—might walk upright and unperceived. Inside, Christie lay moaning in fever. Outside, Wully patrolled his premises, frustrated, raging.

In his excitement details came rushing back to his mind to which he had long and obstinately refused entrance. He remembered all the bits of confession that Christie had made to him the first night that, knowing her trouble, he had gone to claim her. Peter had loved her, he had wanted her for his, she had told him. But she wouldn't listen to him, because she thought of Wully. She thought of herself as his. That was when she was living at her aunt's, after her mother had died. Then once Aunt Libby had gone to stay with her sister who was having a baby. Wully could curse that woman's name for having so blindly, so fondly, trusted her knavish son. Why couldn't she have at least left Dad with his sister! But Christie hadn't been afraid. Wasn't Peter her cousin? She hadn't been at all afraid. And that night, when there was no help within a mile, she had run out of the house, undressed, barefooted, across the snow—until Peter caught her and brought her back. Wully hadn't often thought of that, because he couldn't think of it and live. But it had no mercy on him now. That story cried aloud to him, shrieking through his mind. He would kill that man, and go to the Sheriff and give himself up. He would stand up and tell any twelve men in the county that story, and come home acquitted. If only he could find the man! He went beating through the grasses nearer him, maddened by the feeling that it was in vain. To the west the treacherous grasses jerked at him warningly, and to the east, north and south they mocked him.

The afternoon passed. Neither of them could eat at supper time. Christie wouldn't stay alone in the house while he was out. She insisted on crawling out to the barn, to be near him. She could scarcely sit up, so worn and weak she was. The baby howled bitterly, being neglected. Wully put him to sleep, leaving him on the bed beside his mother. He shut the door to the east. It had no lock. It had never needed one. He put a chair against it, and sat down on the step of the other door, fingering his gun as the stars came out, watching, thinking sorely.

There was no fury that would not set him free when he told the story. What sort of men would those be who would say he had not done right to kill a poison snake? He would just tell them—ah, but to tell that story now, when it was being so well forgotten! To bring it all back to sneering ears, as it had been brought back to him so painfully fresh today! If only—

FASHION DISPLAYS SKETCHED AT PALM BEACH BY MARITE MARTYN

Modes Which Are Destined to Survive Are the Ones Which Have Stood the Test of Being Worn at the Florida Resort.

By MARGUERITE MARTYN.

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 3.

WITH all New York's smartest shops displaying their newest and most tempting creations and importations in dainty booths, round arcades inclosing tropical patios and many thousands of the country's most eager buyers and spenders here ready to pounce upon or discriminately select the modes which please them best, and with the season several weeks, even months, in advance of the season at other centers of civilization, there is no better place in which to study the trend of the fashions just now than at Palm Beach.

One may study the fashion magazines and listen and look at what one's most trusted "buyer" in one's favorite shop at home tells one is to be the thing to wear, but even these authorities have to admit that their word is not law and that the ultimate court of apparel is the woman who buys or declines to buy and wear their offerings. A famous New York shopkeeper here is heard to say there is no better place for the clarification of spring style ideas than at this winter mecca of the prosperous. Under this hot sun and these clear skies, over these golden sands, against this background of nature's luxuriance and man's opulence, those enjoying all the abundance feel the inward urge to rise to the occasion and bedeck themselves in a manner fitting the picture, so lavishly staged. For weeks women have been adopting and discarding fashions, and now, with the reason about to close, many of the modes which are proving most popular with the critical ones are destined to survive and be handed on to the

see an idea had come to Farmer Brown's boy.

"Perhaps it can be done and perhaps it can't," said he to himself. "If it can I'd like to try it. I wonder what they would think of it. Yes, sir, I wonder what they would think of it. I wonder if they would make use of it. I'll have to get Dad to help me do it, and perhaps he won't want to take the time. I certainly can't do it alone. Then if after all that work the Plungers didn't like it and wouldn't use it I would feel foolish."

He looked all around near the place where the tree of the Ospreys had stood. Finally he went back to the barn and there was a smile of satisfaction on his face.

wish there was something I could do to keep them here. It certainly is tough on Plunger and Mrs. Plunger to lose a perfectly good home like that. I sympathize with them. There they go over to the Big River fishing. I wish I didn't feel so helpless. But what can a fellow do for such great big birds as those Ospreys? I can't put the tree back up again, and I can't put their nest up in another tree."

Just then his eye rested on something out in the barnyard leaning up against the barn. He remembered something he had read. His eyes brightened. He looked over toward the Big River. Plunger and Mrs. Plunger were just two dark specks in the sky. Then he started over for the place where their old home had been. And as he went he whistled. You

The Sympathy of Farmer Brown's Boy

PLUNGER and Mrs. Plunger the Ospreys couldn't seem to get over the loss of their nest. You remember, the tree in which it had been blown down during the winter. They had lived there in that particular place for so many years that it seemed to them that they just couldn't give it up. Plunger had suggested that they build a new home nearer the Big River.

"I don't want a new home nearer the Big River! I want my old home!" cried Mrs. Plunger. "I want my old home!"

Plunger tried to comfort her, but she refused to be comforted. Finally he suggested that they build a new nest in a tree near the one that had fallen. Together they looked over all the trees right around there. Somehow they couldn't find one that just suited. It seemed to Plunger that Mrs. Plunger was very hard to suit. But he was wise enough not to tell her. He circled overhead or sat about patiently, waiting for her to make up her mind.

Now of course Farmer Brown's boy knew what had happened. That nest was in plain sight from his dooryard before the tree was blown down. So he had known at once when the tree had blown

"I want my old home," cried Mrs. Plunger

it. He had wondered what Plunger and Mrs. Plunger would do when they returned and found their home destroyed. Now, as he watched them and saw how mournful they were, his sympathy for them led him to long to do something to help them.

But what could he do? There were trees enough for them to build in, so what was the use of worrying about them? "I do hope they'll stay around somewhere near," said he. "I certainly would miss them if they should take it into their heads to go away off somewhere to build a new nest."

folks back home as the season advances.

Let us, then, take our notebook and sketch pad and see and record what they are wearing in the various settings provided at Palm Beach. The day begins at 11 o'clock, when—no matter how late they have been up the night before—people swarm out upon the verandas of the hotels and cottages to join the procession which moves the beach, either to take a dip in the ocean under the noonday sun or to lounge upon the sand in folly groups of friends new and old, or to sit in the gallery of seats arranged in tiers along the board walk just over the beach, which measures, by the way, not more than a city block in length, so that the scene so thickly populated is concentrated well within one's range of vision. According to Col. Ben Brinkman, who, as owner of Forest Park Highlands, ought to be an expert at estimating crowds, 10,000 persons were on the beach the morning I made the accompanying sketches.

Just what are the most popular types of bathing suits may be catalogued as follows: The all black crepe or silk or satin one and the occasional black velvet one, stands out by reason of contrast with the many colorful ones. The tall slender woman of good lines is quick to perceive that she looks her best in this revealing yet irreproachable costume. The cretione, or chintz bathing suit is present in large numbers, so many that, at length, only the very boldest patterns are noticeable in the mass. Then there is the flowered-silk bathing suit, which is apt to look a little faded and washed out after a real dip in the sea, and right here it might be said there is a surprising absence of bathing suits which are too obviously for display and mere sunbathing. I have seen none of the advertised fur or feather trimmed ones. The gingham suits are as smart as they are utilitarian, worn as they are by some members of the cottage colony who are the acknowledged social leaders here. Of course there are many jersey suits of the athletic type for the woman who doesn't mind sunburn, and plenty of pert little laffeta ones, ruffled and in colors sober or gay as you like.

Every bather has a beach cape, sometimes to match her costume but most frequently a blare affair of printed silk or terry cloth. One is figured with Pierre's in appropriate background in repeated design. Brightly colored rubber capes have this advantage, that they may be dropped just at the edge of the surf. Women wearing snugly fitted silk jersey suits are apt to affect the rubber cape. Cretone makes a good beach cape as do home spun and knitted fabrics.

Among the spectators, it depends upon whether you are dressed for luncheon and must sit in a chair or don't mind sitting cross-legged on the sands, what you wear. Among the latter, the two-piece frock with a blouse reaching just to the hips is popular. Many of these are made of flat crepe, some of flannel or kasha, some of knitted materials, in every conceivable color and tint. Sometimes they have short sleeves, more often long, buttoned at the wrist. In the neck line do these chiefly differ. Sometimes they have a collar and cravat or only a scarf tied at the back or at the side; a bateau neck bound with an inch wide fold or a shawl collar left open to the third button. Usually they have little tailored pockets neatly piped at the waist and on the breast. Skirts may be straight, accordion pleated, pleated in groups or gathered only at the front. Everything, be it said, is flat at the back.

Some of the two-piece frocks have coats in deeper effect, double breasted. A smart looking girl wore one of these in a cocoa shade of broad crepe, the figure self-colored, with a wide green horsehair hat, silk stockings knitted with a fancy stitch and green shoes of the plaited leather type. Everywhere one sees these shoes or sandals of basket-woven leather things usually in contrasting combinations of color.

There are one-piece frocks, too, very straight and slender, of flannel, wash silk in gay stripes, and printed crepes, particularly in combinations of black, white and red.

Doctors Warn of makeshifts—Learn this way

OLD-FASHIONED makeshift methods in woman's personal hygiene were dangerous, often embarrassing. There is a new way today which doctors and nurses everywhere advise. Which 8 in 10 women in better walks of life now employ. This new way is Kotex. It is a super-absorbent sanitary pad made of Cellucotton—a substance 5 times as absorbent as cotton.

Each Kotex pad is an active deodorant, impregnated with a new secret deodorant. Kotex is easily disposed of—just like a piece of tissue. Packed in sanitary sealed packages of twelve—Kotex comes in the two sizes: Regular, and Kotex-Super (extra large). Sausage in Camouflage.
Make enough dressing out of stale bread to fill a baking dish, using sage as the flavoring. Mold a pound of sausage into small cakes and fry until brown. Push the sausage cakes down into the dressing and bake until the dressing is crisp and brown. The old-fashioned loose country sausage, flavored with sage, is best, but stuffed sausage can be used.

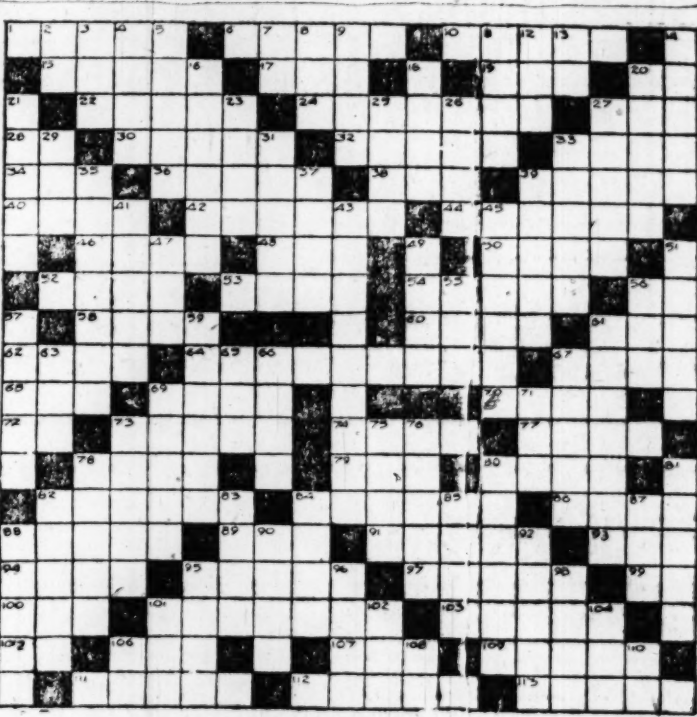

Spinach Balls.
Required: One hard boiled egg, pinch of salt, 1 tablespoonful of butter, 2 pounds of spinach, pepper, milk, frying fat, 1/2 teaspoonful of grated nutmeg, breadcrumbs.
Cook the spinach as above, rub through a sieve, add the hard-boiled egg, finely chopped, the onion, seasoning, nutmeg, and butter. Mix well, form into balls, dip these in milk, and roll in the breadcrumbs. Fry pale brown in hot fat.

CROSS WORD PUZZLE.
Each word reads from left to right, horizontal, or downward (vertical), according to position. Lettered in correctly, words that cross will interlock.
Each number in the white squares also refers to a definition in the accompanying table.
Each definition suggests a word possessing the exact number of letters to fit the white space allotted to it.
Each white space is to receive one letter only. Words start only in numbered squares.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Spots on Wool.
Spots can be removed from woolen clothes by wiping off with water in which as much borax as it will hold has been dissolved.

Beaded Work.
To string small beads on silk before knitting a bead bag, lay the end of the thread on which the beads come on the edge of the silk thread. Fasten carefully together with a little glue. Let dry and then slide the beads from the thread to the silk.

Sonny's Gloves.
The knitted gloves or mittens for the small boy are constantly slipping off unless some drastic step is taken. Narrow elastic may be attached on the inside of the glove, tight enough that it will hold the glove firmly to the sleeve of his coat. If the gloves are loosely knitted at the wrist the elastic may be woven in and out.

All in a Day's Work.
Use peroxide of hydrogen to remove perfume stains from bureau scarfs.

Damp bran scattered over the very dirty carpet will take dirt with it when swept up.

Sew the buttonholes of the sweater before washing so they do not stretch out of shape.

OLD FASHIONED TARTS.
Make a rich short pie crust, roll it out thin and cut as many rounds as are desired, then cut narrow strips of the paste to make the roll of dough around the edge. Prick the bottom crust with a sharp steel fork and bake in a brisk oven on a buttered pan until a delicate brown. When done fill the tarts with jelly, or jam, or a half of a preserved peach or pear, then glaze the fruit over with a little melted currant jelly.

WHEN BABY CRIES :: Carolyn Lieberg

In recent years mothers have been strongly advised to pay no attention to baby's crying. They were told that when baby clamored for notice at other times than the hours set for feeding to let him cry his little eyes out until he gave up exhausted. He was thus expected to learn the uselessness of crying. Magically he would turn into a so-called good baby.

But those who advised this made the mistake common to most of us who try to cure a bad habit or start a new system of work. In trying to improve upon the old treatment, which made the parent a slave to baby's crying, they swung too far to the other extreme. Thus the mother who followed this advice rigidly found that instead of preventing baby's fits of weeping she was encouraging the infant to form worse crying habits.

Doctors of today, while stressing the importance of a regular schedule for baby, are far from advising that crying be ignored. They believe it should be prevented by watchful care. Says a child specialist of worldwide reputation: "It is unwise always to rock a baby to sleep; it is also unwise to allow him to scream himself into a state of hysteria. A quiet darkened room, the steady pressure of the mother's hand in some rhythmic movement, will often quiet an incipient storm. The longer he cries the more trouble it is to soothe him."

This refers only to infants who have not yet reached six months. Babies at different ages require different treatment.
